Grim Truman Flies To Meet Gen. MacArthur

Honolulu First Stop For President

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
ENROUTE TO HAWAII, With President Truman—(P)—An unusually tactful President Truman winged his way over Pacific waters today to Honolulu—last stop on a dramatic 6,500-mile flight to map far eastern strategy with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the site of the widely-heralded meeting with Gen. MacArthur will be made known to reporters Friday, probably for publication.

Visits Wounded Men

Presidential party members have been saying the meeting will be held at Wake Island. It will cover the final phases of United Nations actions in Korea, including reconstruction and rehabilitation of that war-torn country, and strategy to counter increasing Communist threats in the far east, including the menace to Indochina.

Mr. Truman left on the Independence at 3:13 a. m. (EST) from Fairfield-Suisun Air Force base, 60 miles east of San Francisco, after a brief conference with Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and other members of his official party.

The president devoted a good part of last evening to visiting litter cases. Approximately 100 had just arrived from the Korean fighting front at the air base hospital. Mr. Truman talked with each of the wounded men and signed short snorter bills, casts and other souvenirs.

Leaves At Midnight

"I was very much impressed by the wonderful morale of these boys," the president was quoted by Ross. "When we have boys like these, then we don't have to worry much about the future of the country."

Gen. Bradley landed at the California base less than two hours after the president's blue and silver "Independence" arrived. The military chief was accompanied in the "Dew Drop," an Air Force

Ten-Year-Old Bungle Is Political Campaign Fodder In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

An incident of ten years ago emerged as an issue today in Michigan's political campaign. Former Governor Kelly, who wants to return to office, brought it up.

He suggested that his rival, Governor Williams, take a "loyalty test" within the membership of the Democratic party. He made the suggestion last night at Boyne City.

Kelly's statement was an immediate result of Thursday's disclosure that Democrat John Sabol signed a petition in 1940 to put the Communist party on Michigan's ballot.

Revived at Escanaba

Sabol is a candidate for Congress from Michigan's 12th district. He opposed the Republican incumbent, John Bennett.

When asked about Kelly's suggestion, Sabol said at Escanaba he would not sign such a petition now. At the same time Williams said Sabol had done "a very foolish thing."

The Governor also repeated an earlier campaign declaration that the Communist party shouldn't be on the ballot since, he said, it is a "foreign subversive conspiracy."

not a genuine American political party.

However, Kelly, at a Boyne City GOP rally, demanded "why doesn't the governor conduct loyalty tests in his own party?"

"This," he added, "is a more serious matter than just making a platform appearance with John Sabol."

He said that the people "must know" whether Sabol is "a Communist sympathizer or not."

Kelly said he recalled that the 1940 petition was placed on his desk as secretary of state.

All the names were checked, he said, to determine whether any of the signers were on the state payroll in order that they might be discharged.

"Had I found John Sabol's name on a state payroll then, he would have been fired," Kelly said.

In discussing the incident Thursday, Sabol said he was not a Communist in 1940 and "am not one now."

In 1940 Sabol was a candidate for the state legislature. He said that at that time "everyone was saying the Communists were in the Democratic party. I thought they should have their own party."

Instructor Killed As Youths Await Hayride At Perry

PERRY, Mich.—(P)—A gay band of teen-agers assembled at Kenneth Oakes' funeral home in this rural Shiawassee county community last night. They were going on a hayride.

While they were waiting for the straw-covered wagon, Oakes got a call. An ambulance was sent out.

Headed For Town

Time went by. The young people began to wonder why the delay. Then they got their tragic answer.

When the ambulance returned, it carried the body of Dr. Floyd W. Young, who was to have been their driver.

Young, 43-year-old instructor in veterinary medicine at Michigan State, had driven his tractor and wagon from his farm and headed into town to pick up his passengers. With him was his 10-year-old boy, Grant.

Pinned In Ditch

Along the road trouble developed with the hitch between the two vehicles. Dr. Young stepped down to see what was wrong. He told Grant to stay on the tractor. Seconds later the tractor started down an incline toward a ditch.

The father shouted to the boy to jump. Grant did, breaking a leg.

About the same time, Dr. Young lost his balance and fell face down in the water-filled ditch. The tractor bore down upon him, pinning him in the water.

Grant, unable to walk, crawled half a mile to summon help. He was rushed to a hospital in Lansing while his father's body was brought into Perry.

Coast Targets Battered Again By Mighty Mo

No Word Yet Of New Allied Landing

TOKYO — (P) — Thirty-seven United Nations warships under the flag of the battleship Missouri poured fire and steel on Red Korea's supply lines from Soviet Siberia today along a 130-mile sea front.

Speculation still persisted that the combined naval big gun and carrier plane strike—the second in two days far up the Korean east coast—might lead to an allied landing.

News Sources Quiet

There was no report, however, that such an amphibious attack was in progress or in prospect. Military news sources in the Korean fighting were abnormally quiet.

Shells from the Mighty Mo's 16-inch guns crashed onto coastal targets at more than seven tons a minute. British, Australian, Canadian and other American warships were in the naval force commanded by Vice Admiral Arthur D. Struble in the Mo.

The targets were port and rail lines and anything else that remains to support the Red Korean war effort on routes into Red Korea from China and the Soviet Union.

Resistance Stiffens

On the ground fighting fronts, allied spearheads met increasingly heavy resistance in their push toward Pyongyang, the Red capital near the west coast. Two Red

Hero Of War 2 Is Legion Chief

Veterans Pledged To Push Preparedness

By GRAHAM BERRY
LOS ANGELES—(P)—The American Legion has elected a fighting national commander pledged to advance its demands for a U. S. state department shakeup, universal military training and outlawing of the Communist party.

Barrie Cooke, Jr., 29, World War II hero and aviator in executive command of the Legion's annual four-day National convention yesterday.

He promised to carry out the Legion's two-listed preparedness program drafted at what delegates described as the most serious, businesslike session in the organization's 32-year history.

The 3,277 delegates, representing some 3,000,000 Legion members, were unanimous in favoring UMT and in attacking Communism at home and abroad.

But the argument over censoring the state department was almost as hot as the weather, a sweltering 99 degrees and the hottest Oct. 12 on record here.

As finally passed, the resolution did not name Secretary of State Dean Acheson, but left no doubt as to its target. The original wording of "We urge that the president" was changed on the floor to read:

"We demand that the president take all necessary steps to reconstitute that (the state) Department."

CUSTOMER WAS IN A HURRY—With a clatter of broken glass a ruffed grouse plunged through a large plate glass window in the Hanrahan store, 428 South 10th street, a few minutes after 2 p. m. Thursday. Probably intent on purchasing a package of bird seed, the ruffed customer couldn't wait to enter the door. J. E.

Hanrahan is pictured holding the bird that scattered glass 20 feet and plopped dead on the floor 14 feet inside the store. With the window insured and the grouse tipping the scales at one pound two and one-half ounces, Hanrahan isn't grouching. He ate the partridge last night for supper. (Daily Press Photo)

Rackets Bared In Philadelphia

Policy Game Preys On School Children

PHILADELPHIA — (P) — The Senate crime investigating committee moved from New York to Philadelphia today with plans to throw its spotlight on a $100,000-a-year policy racket preying on school children.

Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the committee, said the crime probes have reason to believe the racket activity in the Philadelphia area is the policy or numbers racket.

Alfred M. Klein, assistant counsel for the committee, estimated the gross annual take of the numbers game here at $100,000-000, including "the pennies of countless school children."

During a radio appearance last night (MBS), Kefauver said he has learned U. S. sources are providing Charles (Lucky) Luciano, deported vice overlord now in Italy, with "lots of currency."

The committee has evidence, Kefauver said, that large amounts of money are being mailed to Luciano and that he "still has his finger in the U. S. crime picture."

Ravenna Baby Weighs Less Than 2 Pounds

MUSKEGON—(P)—St. Mary's hospital attendants were "optimistic" today over the chances of survival for a one pound 15 ounce baby girl, one of the smallest ever admitted to the hospital.

The child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Duane Belt at their farm home near Ravenna and brought here immediately to be placed in an incubator.

Store Smashed Again

BATTLE CREEK—(P)—A car went out of control Thursday and crashed into Phillips Fruit Market, smashing a large show window, breaking screens and knocking over a sign. But for repairsmen who started mending the damage it was a familiar sight. Eight other cars have wrought similar havoc in the last four years.

New Coal Diggers Benefits Will Cost $2,000,000 Monthly

By HAROLD W. WARD

WASHINGTON — (P)—Miners' hospital and disability benefits which the coal industry estimates will cost $2,000,000 a month were announced today.

The United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund, headed by UMW President John L. Lewis, announced schedules of benefits for totally disabled coal diggers, older widows and dependent children of deceased miners, and the extension of hospital and medical services to widows and adult dependents.

Fund Building Up

For the time being, this schedule completes the program of benefits to come out of the $150,000,000-a-year welfare fund collected through a 30 cent royalty on each ton of coal produced. The contract signed last March 5 boosted the royalty from 20 to 30 cents a ton.

The fund was exhausted last year after Lewis and his fellow fund trustees distributed more than $100,000,000 in benefits to miners and their relatives. But it is fast building up again under the 30 cent royalty, and the trustees have tightened eligibility requirements and cut out some of the expensive services of last year's fund.

Other benefits were established earlier. They include $100 monthly pensions—aside from the government's social security payments—to 60-year-old members of the UMW with 20 years of service in the pits who have worked for the past year in the mines. The pensions were started June 1.

System All New

Other benefits previously set up were death payments of $1,000 to miners' dependents, beginning April 1; and hospital and limited medical services for miners and their families, started July 1.

Dental service and drug prescriptions for miners' families were dropped in the new program. There will be no mental care except as prescribed treatment for those already suffering from some other disability.

Lewis and the two other trustees said the fund now is under an entirely new system, and those who have been receiving benefits must requalify. The other trustees are Charles Owen for the operators and Miss Josephine Roche, close associate of Lewis, as the neutral trustee.

The trustees are allowed $35,000 a year salary if they want it. Miss Roche, then director of the fund, reported to a Senate committee last summer that Lewis did not accept his pay as a trustee.

Confessed Ann Arbor Arsonist Gets Lawyer

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(P)—One of a former University hospital nurse, Miss Zelda Clarkson.

The 38-year-old nurse sought to have Stacy committed to a mental institution, filing a petition to this effect in probate court complaining of Stacy's attentions to her.

In the petition, she said Stacy told her last summer in Massachusetts that he set the June 6 Haven Hall fire.

Set Fire To Church

Stacy has admitted that, in addition to setting fire to Haven Hall, he tried to burn down the church and two other university buildings.

Circuit Judge James R. Breaker, Jr., excused Hooper and appointed Attorney Leonard H. Young to the case.

The change in lawyers was expected to delay the arraignment of the 30-year-old university teaching fellow. Hooper, appointed to the defense yesterday, had been scheduled to appear with Stacy in court today.

Hooper and University of Michigan Psychiatrist Dr. Ralph M. Patterson interviewed the melancholy Stacy at length yesterday in the county jail. Twice since his arrest Tuesday he has attempted suicide, and jail authorities took special precautions to prevent another attempt.

His arraignment in circuit court was postponed from Thursday so Judge Breaker could appoint an attorney.

In a previous appearance in Ann Arbor municipal court Stacy waived examination, commenting he "couldn't afford" a lawyer.

Described by university associates as a "brilliant scholar," Stacy has admitted he set the $618,000 Haven Hall fire to satisfy an impulse. He has also admitted setting fire to two other university buildings and an Ann Arbor church. These three blazes were put out before damage was extensive, however.

The thin, aloof scholar, an overseas veteran of World War II, was charged with arson on the tip

Doctors' Draft Starts Monday

Medical Men Called For Registration

LANSING—(P)—Local draft boards were reported today to be set for the special registration Monday of doctors, dentists and veterinarians in the first two priorities for military service.

The State Selective Service headquarters advised professional men affected to register with their local draft boards between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Those who must register are: 1—Those, not yet 50 years of age on Oct. 16, who were students in the army specialized training program or similar navy programs or who were deferred from World War II service to continue their education and who had less than 90 days of active service with the armed forces or the U. S. public health service after completing their training. Time spent in internship is counted as training time.

2—Those, who had 90 days or more but less than 21 months of active service with the armed forces or public health service following completion of their training courses.

The headquarters said the army, and not the draft system, will decide how many men are to be called and what types of specialists are needed.

U. S. Rallies Support To Reappoint Lie

By STANLEY JOHNSON

LAKE SUCCESS—(P)—The United States and its friends rallied behind Trygve Lie today in an effort to keep him as United Nations secretary general despite Russian opposition.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik yesterday used Russia's 46th veto in the security council to block a second five-year term for the Norwegian diplomat as head of the world organization.

Lie's term expires Feb. 2, 1951. Lie receives a $20,000 a year tax-free salary and a $20,000 a year expense account, plus $15,000 yearly for home maintenance.

Should he not be continued in office, he would receive a $10,000 a year pension for life.

Well-informed sources here are sure that the general assembly will extend his term of office for another three years as the U. S. wishes. Lie has said that he would not accept a shorter period of service.

Authoritative sources said the Soviet opposition came from Lie's wholehearted support of U. N. action in Korea. Previous to that he had often been denounced by various American organs of opinion as overly friendly to the Russians.

He made a trip to Russia last spring during which he was cordially received by Generalissimo Stalin.

Los Angeles Swelters In 110 Degree Heat

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Summer came Indian style to Los Angeles this year.

The temperature sizzled to 99 degrees yesterday—hottest Oct. 12 on record here—and the weatherman predicted it would be up around 98 today.

The late swelter—which pushed readings up to 110 in suburban North Hollywood—came after three summer months of little sunshine and heavy fog. Late September heat waves are common here, but there hasn't been an October scorcher in 10 years.

Even on the seashore it was hot: 101 in nearby Long Beach.

Sloppy Talk Cities Slap Back At Critics

NEW YORK—(P)—A language recording firm took a slap at "sloppy speech" cities and "he who got slapped" took some pokes at the company.

The firm, the Linguaphone Institute of America, said yesterday that Brooklyn heads the "sloppy speech" parade.

Four other cities ranking high in the slovenly conversation derby, it said, are Ypsilanti, Mich., Atlanta, Ga., Chicago, Ill., and Hollywood, Calif.

Said the company about Ypsilanti: "Folks just don't seem to care about their speech."

Replied Ypsilanti's Mayor Dan Quirk: "We are too darned busy getting things done to worry about speech patterns."

Ypsilanti high school Principal Ernest Chappel chimed in with, "We can at least pronounce Ypsilanti."

Commenting on Chicago, the institute said: "Most people sound like they are either being chased by gangsters or are running for trains."

Chicago's Mayor Martin H. Kennelly cracked back, "All Chicagoans talk like real Americans and educated people."

Of Hollywood speech, the institute said, "They sound as if they are talking with hot potatoes in their mouths."

Hollywood hasn't answered yet. The Linguaphone Institute is a business firm, which offers audio-visual courses of recordings and written matter to train people in languages.

Boy Locked Up In Soo Shooting

One Wounded Girl In Grave Condition

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(P)—Moody, 18-year-old Donald Cole, who told police he shot two girls because he "wanted to do something bad," will be tried on two charges of assault with attempt to commit murder.

The youth waived examination yesterday when arraigned before Municipal Judge Mahlon R. Stewart and was returned to jail under $10,000 bond.

While his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Cole, and a few other spectators watched, Donald stood quietly to hear the charges against him read by Chippewa county prosecutor James Henderson.

He is accused of critically wounding Myrna Benson, 12, and Pauline Parady, 14, who were shot down last Saturday in the Upper Peninsula woods near the Benson hunting cabin.

Pauline's condition was reported still grave.

Donald fled into the woods and was captured Wednesday after a five-day hunt by police.

Henderson said the youth may be tried at the next session of Chippewa circuit court, scheduled for December.

Six Throats Cut

"Harvey" Gives Many Laughs

Civic Drama Guild Scores Success

Players of the Civic Drama Guild of New York gave an Escanaba audience of about 800 enjoyable theatre fare last night with their presentation of the Pulitzer prize play, "Harvey".

The show, staged in William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, was brought here under sponsorship of the Escanaba Lions club. Aboard interpreted by a cast of six, the play was the first of a series of three which will be presented here this season.

The role of Elwood P. Dowd, an ingratiating tippler whose constant companion is an invisible rabbit, "six feet one and a half inches tall," was played by Robert Paquin, who last year was featured in the male lead of "Fair and Warner".

Paquin, who also is a tenor singer, turned in a creditable performance as the lovable, philosophizing bachelor. Though he got off a bad start with a delayed entrance which had several in the audience wondering if he was really going to make his entrance then, he succeeded in the humorous role.

Good Characterization

Pearl Ford, veteran actress who has appeared in plays produced by A. H. Woods, Schubert and Ziegfeld, gave an excellent performance as Veta Simmons, sister of Elwood P. Dowd, and mother of the gawky Myrtle Mae Simmons. The latter role was played by Avril Gentles, who in the last year toured Japan in "Mr. Roberts" with the USO. Both players ably interpreted the parts, although the show's Myrtle Mae could have been brighter.

The role of Dr. Lyman Sanderson, assistant at Chumley's Rest, a sanatorium where Veta Simmons wants her brother committed, was nicely played by Victor Finney, who played in the Guild's previous performance of "Kiss and Tell" and several Broadway plays.

Wendell Mayes, whose background includes performances in Shakespearean plays, scored with the audience throughout the evening with his interpretation of "Wilson," the asylum's strongman orderly.

Irving Karsch, who appeared here last year in "Fair and Warner," played the part of Doctor Chumley, chief psychiatrist at Chumley's Rest who becomes over-

Salvation Army Drive Will Start On Monday

A fund-raising campaign that will enable the Salvation Army in Escanaba to continue its invaluable services to the less fortunate in our community will get under way Monday.

Upon the success of this drive will depend the maintenance of the Salvation Army's present work and the extension of new projects designed to meet the increasing needs of unsettled times. The quota is $4,750.

The Salvation Army's musical group will parade Ludington street this evening to publicize the endeavor.

The Salvation Army has for many years ministered to the needs of needy persons in Delta county and vicinity. Following is a resume of its work in this area for the past nine months up to Oct. 1:

Social aid — Transients aided, 162; garments and shoes, 450; transportation, 6; meals, 108; and lodgings, 54.

Local aid — Adults given aid, 1890; children, 5880; garments for children and adults, 6187; shoes, 432; and fuel orders given, 10. In addition, needy families were supplied with mattresses, beds, springs, quilts, stoves, curtains, dishes, rugs, baby buggies, baby cribs, ice boxes, tables, chairs, pillows, washing machine, trunks, and toys.

A total of 432 hours were spent by Salvation Army officers in consultation with individuals worried over personal problems. Eighty-four youth club sessions were held during the period with total attendance of 1559. A total of 540 hours were devoted to visiting the sick in hospitals and homes. Nine services were held at the Delta Convalescent home. Three one-week camp periods were conducted for underprivileged children. The Salvation Army also conducted regular meetings for the Girl Guards and Junior Girls. Forty sessions of Sunday school were held during the nine months with a total attendance of 2487.

Ypsilanti Woman Gets Deer With Bow And Arrow

Just to show her hubby that he's not the only archer in the family, Miss Jean Johnson of Ypsilanti bagged a 100-pound buck yesterday. Her husband, caught a 150-pound buck with his bow and arrow earlier in the week.

The Johnsons will leave Masonville tomorrow after vacationing at the Pine Rest cottages.

intended to Dowd's rabbit and begins seeing him too.

Phyllis Manning, wife of Wendell Mayes who last year toured in summer stock shows, carried the role of Ruth Kelly, R. N., with adeptness and Victor Finney turned in an interesting and very apt interpretation of E. F. Lofgren, the taxi driver, who appreciates the "funny ones" and feels normal people are sometimes "pretty awful".

Irving Karsch, company manager while the unit is on tour with "Harvey," was stage manager for the production, settings for which are in the Dowd home and in the rest home reception room.

Humor in this smash comedy by Mary Chase came through in good form in the show last night, though the audience failed to really warm-up to the production until the second act.

Two other comedies are booked for presentation here this season. They are "Born Yesterday" by Gerson Kamin, which is slated January 4 and "I Like It Here," which will be presented March 29.

Draft Classifications Set Up For Doctors

WASHINGTON—(P)—An executive order from President Truman has set up draft classifications for physicians, dentists and veterinarians.

Draft registrations for the medical profession begin October 16 and are to be completed by January 16.

For the initial registrations October 16, an estimated 5,000 physicians, dentists and allied specialists must report.

The new executive order placed in Class 1-A all under the age of 51 who are considered by the local board as available for military service, except those for whom the boards establish eligibility for a deferred or exempt classification.

Deferments Explained

The deferred or exempt classifications set up by the order are:

1-A-O—Conscientious objectors who have no objection to non-military duty.

4-E—Conscientious objectors whose consciences will not permit them to perform any duties whatsoever of the armed services.

1-D—Members of reserve components of the armed services.

2-A—Persons whose services in the community are necessary to maintenance of the national health, safety or interest, and who cannot be replaced in the community.

3-A—Persons whose induction into the armed services would result in extreme hardship and privation to a wife, child or parent.

4-A—The sole surviving son of a family of which one or more sons or daughters died in line of duty while serving in the armed forces or of injuries or disease resulting from such service.

4-F—Persons physically, mentally or morally unfit for military service.

5-A—Persons 51 or older except those on active military service and in Class 1-C.

1-C—Persons on active duty in the armed forces, or date fixed for registration and were later discharged honorably or honorably released from service.

Volunteers Get Bonus

Selective service has ordered, for the initial registration, those physicians, dentists and veterinarians who were educated at the expense of the government during World War II and served less than 21 months in the armed forces, and those who were deferred from World War II service for the sake of their educations.

Men called up in the doctors draft will serve not more than 21 months under present regulations. Those who volunteer will get a bonus of $100 a month.

Each person must register before a duly designated registration official or the local draft board, even if they previously have registered with their draft boards.

The order provided for the induction of men in each classification in the order of their dates of birth, with the youngest being chosen first.

Sewage Plant Being Improved

Second Digester Going Into Service

Installation of a digester cover on the second digester at the city sewage treatment plant has been started, City Manager A. V. Aronson reported this morning.

The project will cost about $10,000 and will be completed in about three weeks. Two digesters were installed at the sewage plant when the plant was built in 1931 but a cover was installed on only one of the 35-foot tanks. The second tank has been used for storage purposes.

The increase in sewage, however, has necessitated putting the second digester into service, Aronson said. The installation which includes piping for the recovery of sewage gas will increase the gas output for generating purposes about 50%.

The improvement will permit more efficient operation of the sewage plant by increasing the digester capacity of the plant. The gas is used to operate a generator at the plant, providing sufficient power for all the electric motors at the plant and for the motors at two pumping stations in the city.

Prudential Men Observe Diamond Anniversary Here

Eighty-three residents of the Escanaba area today participated in one of the largest birthday parties on record—the observance of the 75th anniversary of the Prudential Insurance Co. The occasion was marked by simultaneous gatherings of some 75,000 persons throughout the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

In Escanaba the party took the form of a luncheon held at the House of Ludington and attended by the entire staff of the local Prudential office and members of their families.

Highlighting the program was a special broadcast from the company's headquarters in Newark, N. J. which was heard by the local gathering. On its regular morning radio program, over the NBC network, the company broadcast part of the celebration in which the 11,000 home office employees were participating.

Extending birthday greetings to the far-flung Prudential "family," Carol M. Shanks, the company's president traced the growth of the firm into one of the world's great enterprises, serving more than 26,000,000 policy-holders and having assets of approximately $1 1/2 billion dollars.

Rain in the Khasi hills of north-east India once totalled 805 inches in a single year.

Full Payment Assured For Bonifas Bequests

Payment in full of bequests totaling $2,075,000 in the will of the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, Escanaba benefactress, was assured today in a statement by John A. Lemmer, executor of the estate.

Eighty per cent or $1,660,000 has already been distributed to the principal legatees in the liquidation of the estate of Mrs. Bonifas, widow of the late William Bonifas, wealthy lumberman.

The remaining 20 per cent or $415,000 will be distributed as soon as the federal Internal Revenue Department has cleared the estate on tax matters, Lemmer said. Federal and state taxes paid totaled $125,000.

When the final distribution is made the legatees will receive slightly above 100 per cent of the bequests contained in the will of Mrs. Bonifas, who died May 25, 1948.

In Treasury Bills

The estate was principally in stocks that have been sold and converted into U. S. Treasury Bills for distribution to the legatees.

Principal gifts of Mrs. Bonifas were to the city of Escanaba, the Catholic Diocese of Marquette, the Escanaba school district, and to the village of Garden for the construction of a school.

The total bequests to the principal legatees and the amount they have now received are as follows:

Total Bequest 80% Paid

Escanaba School District . . .	$820,000	$656,000
Marquette Diocese . . .	$805,000	$644,000
City of Escanaba . . .	$300,000	$240,000
State Board of Education (for Garden school) . . .	$150,000	$120,000

The will provides that any surplus following liquidation of the estate will be divided among the residuary legatees, the Escanaba school district, the Catholic bishop of the Diocese of Marquette, and the City of Escanaba.

Gifts to Community

Gifts specified in the bequest to the school district included $500,000 for a new Senior High school, $150,000 for a school for handicapped children, $100,000 toward establishment of a community college in Escanaba, $50,000 for scholarships, and $20,000 for maintenance of Catherine Bonifas Technical school.

The gifts to the Diocese of Marquette included $600,000 for the construction of a Catholic central high school, and for other purposes.

The city of Escanaba received gifts of $100,000 each for the following purposes: To aid in construction of a combined city hall and court house, construction of a state office building in Escanaba, and for construction of recreational facilities for Escanaba youth.

THE PLAY'S THE THING

CHICAGO—(P)—The staff of the Gary school made a survey of the effects of television on young students. Among the findings: More than 40 per cent of the pupils said they would rather watch TV programs than play.

17 Polio Cases Reported In U. P.

Three new polio cases in the Upper Peninsula and 150 in Lower Michigan were reported for the week ending Oct. 6 by the Michigan Department of Health, it was announced today by Dr. William Harrison, director of the local health department.

The new cases were one each in Houghton, Iron and Menominee counties, bringing the U. P. total to 17 cases. Of the 17 reported cases, one terminated fatally in Schoolcraft county.

Marquette leads the U. P. with 5 reported cases, Chippewa and Ontonagon each had 3, Delta, Houghton, Schoolcraft and Menominee each had 1, and Gogebic and Iron each had 2.

To Oct. 6 there was a total of 1,240 cases in Michigan, compared to 2,357 to the same date last year, and only 549 for the period in 1948. The peak incidence of the disease this year is occurring later than in 1949.

The "twinkling" of stars is said to be an illusion caused by human eye movements.

Bureau To Hold Executive Meet

Industrial Program Will Be Considered

C. J. Crocker of Ontonagon, new president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, has called a meeting of the Bureau's executive committee in Marquette Wednesday, Oct. 12, to take action on proposals for a regional industrial promotion program.

The newly created industrial division of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau has outlined a program for giving technical aid to existing industries and attracting new manufacturing plants to the region.

One of the proposals to be given consideration by the executive committee on Wednesday will be the launching of a campaign to raise funds to finance the operations of the industrial division.

Delta Spud Crop Good; Schedule Show Oct. 26

With the Delta county potato harvest now about 65 per cent completed and the crop rated as "good" for 1950, growers are beginning to prepare samples to enter in the county Potato Show, scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 26.

This year marks the 11th annual Potato Booster contest which over the past decade has successfully encouraged development of the Delta county potato industry.

Four trophies and approximately $500 in cash will be awarded 1950 winners in the Booster contest. The names of the grower-winners will not be announced until the evening of the county Potato Show program.

Over 2,200 Acres Weather has been "quite favorable" for the potato harvest although digging was slow in starting because frosts did not kill down the tops and spraying was necessary, said J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

Approximately 2,200 acres are devoted to the commercial production of potatoes in Delta county. In addition there are many fields less than three acres in size, Heirman said.

The quality of the potatoes and the yields are rated "good" by Heirman, who has visited most of the commercial fields during the harvesting period.

Russet rubs make up most of the potato crop in Delta, with some Sebagoes and a few Burbank russets.

Many Growers Compete

Growers entered in the Booster contest are beginning to select the tubers they will enter in the Delta county Potato Show. Between 50 and 60 growers, including the 4-H Club class, are expected to compete.

The contest is in three divisions: Certified potato growers; tablestock; and 4-H Club growers.

Certified growers will show samples of 128 tubers; tablestock growers will exhibit 32. Both must show tubers uniform in size and type and free of mechanical injury and disease. In addition, tablestock growers will show a one bushel sample of U. S. No. 1's in a representative tablestock sample judge for cooking quality, determined by the alcohol test.

State Record Set

The 4-H Club potato growers will show a sample of 32 tubers. The outstanding sample in the tablestock class will be awarded the sweepstakes trophy, one of four to be presented. The other trophies will be for top winners in certified, tablestock and 4-H divisions. In addition $500 in cash awards will be presented.

The Booster Contest has been successful in encouraging development of the potato industry. Many high records, including four state records, have been set. Jules Van Damme was state champion in 1941, Emil DeBacker in 1944, and Frank Falkeis in 1947 and again in 1948.

Following the county potato shows, the Upper Peninsula Potato Show this year will be held Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 and 2 at Manistique.

All retailers and their ladies are invited to attend the dinner.

Course Completed By Miss Keinonen

FORT LEE, Va.—During graduation ceremonies recently held at the Women's Army Corps training center, Fort Lee, Virginia, Private Irene L. Keinonen of Escanaba received a certificate of completion of the clerk typist specialist course.

Promoted from recruit to private upon completion of basic training, Private Keinonen was selected to attend the clerk typist specialist course because of abilities and aptitudes indicated during basic training.

The course is an eight-week clerical course covering advanced typing, Army correspondence, administrative details such as morning and sick reports, duty rosters, drafting of orders and the army filing system. The purpose and scope of various army publications are also studied.

After graduating from the specialist course Private Keinonen was assigned to Fort Bliss, Texas, for her first duty assignment.

Private Keinonen was employed by Laerman's store, Escanaba, before joining the army in May 1950 at Escanaba.

She is the daughter of Mrs. John Fransen, 227 North 11th street, Escanaba.

Mrs. Charles Dahl, 89, former resident of Bark River, died at the Augustana Lutheran home in Chicago on Oct. 7.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robert Bergstrom of Bark River, Mrs. Oscar Nelson of Chicago, and a son, Oscar, residing in California.

Mrs. Dahl left Bark River about twenty-five years ago to reside in Chicago.

Dental Standards Lowered For Army

Dental standards for enlistment in the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force have been greatly reduced, Captain Warren A. DeLafre, sector commander of the Upper Peninsula, announced here today.

Young men who were previously rejected for enlistment because of dental standards are urged to re-apply for enlistment at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba, or phone 2944.

For some time the standards have been quite high due to a

Science Helps Beet Farming

Machines Are Used To Speed Harvest

Evidence that science and invention plays an important part in farming and the nation's food supply is shown by Michigan's current sugar beet harvest.

In 1943 only three harvesting machines were available to dig, top and load Michigan's sugar beet harvest. Today more than 750 harvesting machines are grinding away at the big sugar beet acreage in the state, figures compiled by Michigan State College agricultural engineers reveal.

Clarence Hansen, research agricultural engineer at MSC, believes nearly 45 percent of the 1950 crop will be taken from the ground mechanically this year. Slightly more than 100,000 acres of beets are being harvested and Hansen believes the crop will gross growers more than $15,000,000.

Harvesting sugar beets by hand has always been a back-breaking job. About one-third of the labor involved in growing a crop of sugar beets is in the digging, topping and loading, research studies show. Hansen says the average machine will handle 6 to 8 acres of beets a day with two men doing the operating. Studies show it would take 25 to 30 men a day to pull and top six to eight acres working by hand under normal conditions.

Rapid digging, enables farmers to get the beets out of the ground during early fall weather before freezing, snowy weather begins. But it has created another problem. Hansen says this problem of beets deteriorating while in piles awaiting processing is being solved by stockpile ventilation.

Michigan State College researchers in cooperation with the Farmers and Manufacturers' Beet Sugar Association have been studying this problem for four years. Hansen estimates that fully 30 percent of the beets harvested in Michigan this year will be handled by stockpile ventilation. Most plants, he said, now have unrestricted delivery.

Prolonged exposure to strong sunlight may affect human eyesight for a week or more.

J-C's Doing Good Public Service In Registration, Election Drive

THE Junior Chamber of Commerce has accepted an important assignment for public service in organizing a campaign to get eligible electors registered for the general election, and then in organizing a campaign to get out the vote on election day November 7.

This type of public service has been accepted on the national level by the Jaycees and Junior Chamber chapters in cities throughout America are promoting a similar election campaign.

In connection with the registration aspect of the campaign, the J-C's have arranged for a registration booth tonight on Ludington street, at the 11th and Ludington street intersection in front of the Home Supply company establishments.

While it is undoubtedly true that only a few scores of eligible voters may be registered at that booth tonight, the dramatization of the registration requirement should encourage many other persons to go to the city hall to register before the deadline on Wednesday, October 18.

The Jaycees, of course, are not interested in how you vote. That is your privilege—and your secret, if you desire it to be. The J-C slogan in this campaign is, "Vote as You Please, but Please Vote." It is an effective and fitting slogan, appropriate to the lofty purposes of the campaign.

Both major political parties have indicated their approval and appreciation of the J-C efforts to get out the vote. Both major parties have made contributions to the cause to help defray some of the expenses that a campaign of this kind entails.

The campaign, as we have indicated, is in two phases. The first is to get eligible voters registered. That is essential because unless electors are registered, they cannot vote. That phase of the campaign will extend through October 18, the registration deadline date. The second phase of the program is to get out the vote on election day. The goal is to get out 80% of registered voters, an unusually high percentage but one which can be met with the right kind of effort and with the kind of public cooperation that the project deserves.

Foreign countries have no difficulty getting out 85%, 90% and even as much as 95% in their elections and, of course, the iron curtain countries do even better because there failure to vote may bring a secret police officer to your door at midnight, with orders to haul you away to a slave labor camp.

We have a real heritage to protect and the American way of doing it is through the democratic process, the election franchise.

Hospital Board Will Prove Helpful

CREATION of a citizens' advisory board for St. Francis hospital should prove helpful not only in acquainting the public with the services offered by the hospital, but also in helping to improve those services. The fact that the owners of the hospital, Third Order of St. Francis, have urged the creation of the advisory board gives impetus to the belief that the committee of laymen will be able to perform a good service, both to the hospital and to the area served by the hospital.

Members selected for the advisory board comprise some of the best business talent in the county, men and women who have on numerous times in the past shown their willingness to work for the public benefit and with capabilities for accomplishments.

The hospital is striving for accreditation by the American College of Surgeons and is nearing that objective. The committee can help the hospital to achieve that result, but the scope of its assistance can and undoubtedly will go beyond that.

The advisory board will meet six times a year, often enough to keep abreast of hospital developments, its needs and its problems.

A DESCRIPTION

(Green Bay Press-Gazette)
Cardinal Spellman of New York created literature over in London at a service held by his church when he said:

"Today, gathered under lash and chain, are the bodies and souls of millions of helpless peoples who hate and fear Communist tyrants yet dare not defy them. I flew the face of the torn and tortured earth and I know the sights and sounds and silences of war. I know that the sights and silences of war beat even louder than its sounds."

"Yawning, open graves, sobbing shadows of men who stare and pass on, human torments carried in wicker baskets."

"Women's eyes quick with borrowed motherhood, children wan and gaunt, craving bread."

"Widowed cities weep, solitary and unloved, their temples shorn of cross and spires."

"Homes looted and gutted, forests of jagged walls."

"And gloomiest of all war sights is man himself, groping in the fog of despair, chilling fears gripping his heart, withering doubts shriveling his mind, man broken and crushed by the juggernaut of Communism."

We call that literature because it is not only truth but truth so phrased, dressed and presented that it arouses the conscience of man, forces him to realize the awful consequences of power gone mad, and leaves upon his mind an indelible impression of reality, horrible it is true, but no more shocking or morbid than the actual story of what man has done to man, wilfully, wantonly, hideously.

We wonder if a recent crime conference in Illinois really got down to brass knuckles.

Some of the laws with teeth in them actually develop an ache—for all of us.

Sabot Not The Man For Congress Job

JOHN SABOL, who is the Democratic candidate for congressman in the 12th Michigan district, which embraces the western half of the Upper Peninsula, has admitted that in 1940 he signed a petition to put the Communist party on the Michigan ballot.

Sabot's weak defense, as expressed by Gov. Williams, is that Sabot was concerned only with "keeping the Communists out in the open where they could be dealt with at the polls." Sabot insists that he is not now and never was a Communist.

We do not know if Sabot is a Communist or not, but we do not believe that the 12th district voters want as their congressman any man who was willing to sign a Communist petition for admittance on the Michigan ballot.

Although Sabot's candidacy has no direct connection with the 11th district, which embraces the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula, it is nonetheless true that congressmen from the 11th and 12th districts should work closely together for the best interests of the Upper Peninsula. To a substantial degree then, the people of the 11th district do have an interest in the 12th district election.

In this day when Communists are a serious threat to the security of our nation, it would be folly to elect to Congress any man who, if he is not a Communist sympathizer, at least has shown his lack of judgment by signing a Communist petition.

Medicine On The Hoof

WHEN a doctor looks at a meat animal, what does he think about?

In company with the layman, he probably thinks that the animal will one day be converted into some mighty fine steaks, chops, roasts and other cuts.

On top of that, it is likely that the doctor looks on the animal as a highly important "assistant" in the practice of his profession.

The reason for this is that meat animals, and meat animals alone, are the source of more than 50 vital drugs and medicines. These include insulin, thyroid, liver extract and hormones. Other drugs of meat animal origin which are now in the experimental stage promise medical miracles. So far they are scarce, and research has not developed to the point where they are ready for general use. But the indications are that they will either cure or alleviate a number of serious afflictions, such as arthritis, which has long presented grave problems to the medical fraternity.

To provide these medicines, millions of tiny glands from meat animals must be carefully saved and accumulated. The packing industry has taken that job upon itself, and it's no small order. As an example, to make one single ounce of insulin, the pancreas glands of 1,500 cattle or 7,500 pigs are needed. But the job is always done.

So the meat animal is more than a handsome collection of good things for the dinner table. He may be your all-important helper when you're sick.

You may go to football stadiums because you like the game, and to see the flashy players win themselves some gridiron fame. But no matter who it is that stars or how the game is won, it is certain you will see two shows for just the price of one. For besides the players on the field, with all their skill endowed, there's a rival exhibition by the sporting football crowd.

Look around and see the gal who flaunts her furs and costly coats—doesn't know the game but comes to wear her fancy clothes and gloat. Note the pennant-waving white-haired grad who speaks of way-back-when—says they really had some players in the class of nineteen-ten. Watch a bunch of young alumni, feeling gay in all the crush—is it merely college spirit causing such a ruddy blush?

Cast your eye upon the fresh-faced kids who deal in frantic cheers—politicians, dignitaries, clutching mums and souvenirs. Marjorettes in front of brass bands, and stepping mighty high, coaches pacing back and forth as they prepare to do or die. For besides the game itself, there's lots of other football fun, and it's certain you will see two shows for just the price of one.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Senator Kefauver's determination to investigate the Mafia requires a lot more courage than appears on the surface. Not only is it dangerous from the point of view of personal safety, but it is dangerous politically. For the Mafia has friends and protectors in very high places.

President Truman had no idea what was happening, and probably his naive military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, did not suspect it, but the Mafia was making a play for White House pull through the late William Helis, close friend and partner of Frankie Costello. The senate expenditures committee was in the throes of unearthing real dynamite in regard to this during the Maragone-Vaughan investigation, when Senator Hooty considerably hushed the hearings up.

CHIEF'S HATCHET MAN

How the Mafia pulls wires in high places is illustrated by Sylvester Corolla, New Orleans hatchet man for Louisiana's Mafia chief, Marcello, who helps operate Costello's gambling joints in and around New Orleans. Corolla's son, Anthony, is married to Marcello's niece, Maria Zaniatta, who came to the United States from Italy on a visitor's permit in 1947, but strangely has been allowed to remain here ever since. Obviously she could not have done so without political pull.

Corolla was convicted in 1921 for bootlegging, and spent a year and a day in Atlanta; was sentenced again in 1931 to 24 months for violating the narcotics laws; and in 1933 was sentenced to 8 to 15 years at hard labor for attempted murder. However, the Mafia has pull. And, one year after the attempted murder, Corolla was given a full pardon by the governor of Louisiana.

Two years later, in January, 1936, Corolla was slapped into Atlanta on a five-year sentence for a narcotics violation, and this time the federal government finally decided that he was not a useful citizen and ordered him deported. Whereupon Congressman James Morrison of Louisiana came to his rescue, introducing a series of private bills to keep him in this country. However, Corolla's record was too black even for political pull, and on April 30, 1947, he was deported from Boston by plane.

Two years later, he turned up in Mexico, operating out of Acapulco, having been ordered there by Lucky Luciano personally. And on July 4, 1950, Corolla was picked up in New Orleans, right back in his old stamping grounds.

SECRET MAFIA ROLL CALL

Here is the hitherto roll call on more of the Mafia leaders, the most powerful rulers of crime in the United States:

Frank Cappola, alias "Three-Fingered Frank"—Cappola was prominent in the New Orleans Mafia, then showed up in Kansas City, where he was linked with the late Charley Binaggio. In fact, Binaggio aided Cappola to resist deportation in 1930 but failed. Cappola was deported but came back again, in May, 1949, with Binaggio on his $2,000 deportation bond.

Cappola set up headquarters in Tijuana, Mexico. Chief of Police Francisco Kraus raided Cappola's headquarters in a Tijuana motel, and found with him Frank Bomperio, a San Diego tavern owner and business associate of Jack Dragna, boss of the California Mafia.

TEXAS GAMBLING LORDS

Sam Maceo of Galveston—Before 1920, Maceo was a humble Galveston barber. But he broke into the bootlegging racket, graduated to dope smuggling, then muscled into the gambling rackets, and now owns Galveston night clubs, bars and two hotels. Maceo is also a power in Texas politics. Born in Italy in 1894, his criminal record shows no convictions, only an acquittal on a New York narcotics rap Oct. 24, 1942.

Biaggio Angelica of Houston—He is Maceo's subordinate in the Mafia, has been linked with Maceo in narcotics smuggling, was sentenced to 10 years and fined $2,000 on a narcotics rap at Houston, Oct. 20, 1938; was sentenced to another eight years' imprisonment at Galveston Jan. 10, 1940, and still another two years at New York City Oct. 10, 1942, both on narcotics violations. Incidentally, the New York narcotics case was the same one in which Maceo was mixed up.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

SOME "R" WORDS TO WATCH

The prevailing American pronunciation of robust is: ROE-bust. The first syllable accent is listed as second choice by the American College Dictionary. All other dictionaries show roe-BUST as the only pronunciation.

Redingote is a French loan word, designating a long plain coat for women. In France a redingote is a man's frock coat. The French pronunciation is: ruh-dan(n)-GAWT.

Redingote has this amusing origin: The French borrowed the English "riding coat," which became so corrupted in pronunciation that in time the spelling was changed to redingote in order to conform with the French pronunciation. Then, redingote entered English as a French loan word, and took on a new meaning and a new pronunciation.

The word rumba is Latin-American of uncertain origin. The Spanish pronunciation is ROOM-bah. The Standard American is: RUM-buh.

The word is often spelled rhumba, which is a nonsensical spelling to Latin-Americans, for there are no Spanish words beginning with rh-. How the "h" got into the erroneous rhumba is unexplained. There is no reason why the "h" should not be dropped.

The name Riviera locally designates the Mediterranean coast from Cannes, France, to Le Spezia, Italy. The French Riviera is usually called Cote d'Azur (azure coast). The French pronunciation of Riviera is: reev-vair-ah.

The Italians call it reev-VAIR-ah. In Standard American Riviera is pronounced riv-ee-AIR-ah. But American dictionaries are slow in giving it sanction.

Hardware Makers Flooded With Orders From Saws To Seeds

By LEE GEIST

Want to see some REAL scare buying? Go to a hardware show.

A big one is running in New York this week. A record 661 manufacturers are displaying over 30,000 items ranging from power saws to fishing tackle. Some 25,000 wholesale and retail hardware men are present. And the way they're placing orders marks them among the most nervous men in the nation.

"I'd say orders for power tools are running 150% to 200% above a year ago," avers sales manager E. E. Bandle of Black & Decker Manufacturing Co. of Towson, Md.

And his is among the less startling reports. Makers of forged tools like machinists' wrenches say orders are 300% above this time last year. Fishing tackle fabricators speak of 200% to 300% increases. Cutlery companies modestly announce increases of only 75%.

Three Times Normal
"Orders for precision tools," says Abe Rosenberg, president of the General Hardware Manufacturing Co. of New York, "are three times normal volume and orders for hand tools are twice as heavy as normally."

And all this booming business is from the hardware makers' old customers. So rushed are the manufacturers that hardly one of them will even talk with a new customer, let alone take an order from him.

The psychology behind the scramble is bespoken by a buyer for a chain of Midwest stores:

"When things get tight, hardware is the first to disappear. In 1941, even before Pearl Harbor, we couldn't get the things we needed. Now I'm taking everything I can get—just in case."

You won't find this mad rush reflected in your local hardware store, however, manufacturers and retailers agree. Householders aren't frantically buying up new faucets or floor polishers, garden tools or paint brushes. It's the men who wholesale and retail these items who are afraid they'll be caught short next year—so they're putting in a big supply now.

Prices are scooting up. The average increase from three months ago is estimated around 15%—with a range between 5% and 50%. For instance, some bicycles have moved from $42 up to $46.

Certain small power tools have climbed from $32 to $33. A power mower has moved up from $89 to $99. And paint brushes that brought $34 a dozen not long ago are now tagged at $58 a dozen.

But present prices, say the manufacturers, may not mean too much. They expect more increases. And almost all of them are accepting orders only on a going price at time of delivery basis. Shortage-worried distributors and retailers are swallowing this pill without much quibbling.

Not All Fun
The manufacturers themselves insist this rush of business isn't unalloyed joy.

"Why should we be happy?" asks one man exhibiting his wares at the show. "We can take orders—but we can't deliver, not now any more. And from where we sit it looks like it won't be enough to go around next year."

The same plaint has been echoing from nearly every hardware booth—whether it displays power tools or kitchen gadgets, plumbing fixtures or garden seed, dog collars, gasoline engines or paint brushes.

"We're rationing on a basis of previous orders to old customers only," says a spokesman for one power tool maker.

Reports one maker of small motors, the Clinton Machine Co. of Clinton, Mich.: "In a few weeks we're opening a new plant that will triple our capacity, but even that wouldn't satisfy our current demand."

One bicycle manufacturer who has been sold out for this year since August is advising buyers to get in line now for next year. "We expect to have all our 1951 bikes sold by March," says a spokesman for the Westfield Manufacturing Co. of Westfield, Mass., maker of Columbia bicycles.

Makers Hedge Orders

Most manufacturers who are taking orders at all are hedging them carefully. "We're making no guarantees on either delivery or prices," says the sales manager of one of the largest fishing tackle houses. "Some of our supplies are coming in ten weeks late, at steadily higher cost. We tell dealers we'll deliver when we can—at whatever the price is then."

The terms aren't scaring anyone, this exhibitor admits. "The more anxious buyers are to get their orders in," he says.

More buyers than ever before have been pouring into the show this week, many of them from Canada and Europe.

The head of a precision-tool company pointed to one buyer, "I haven't seen him for over four years. He's the president of one of the biggest West Coast stores. Now he comes East, he tells me, just to cement friendly relations—and to beg me for twice what he's bid me to get."

Behind the manufacturers' worries about filling orders looms the war mobilization program. It has already siphoned off a lot of materials and manpower they need. And most of those exhibiting at this show say they expect to be doing a lot of war work themselves. Most military hardware was sold as surplus after the last war, they explain, and now the armed forces are rushing to restock.

"Can't Keep Up"

One big maker of machinists' tools, for instance, reports it's dickering for a Government contract that would take almost 25% of its output. Meantime, the company's civilian orders are running double last year's. "To take care of this boost in business, it has put on a night shift and is working around the clock."

"And we still can't keep up," says the company's sales manager ruefully. "Unless Washington cuts down its requirements—or at least slows delivery schedules—a lot of our distributors are going to go without."

Meantime, labor and materials shortages are piling up. "We're still getting enough steel for normal needs," reports a tool maker, "but not a fraction of what's needed for this rush."

A lawn mower maker tells how he had to buy 25,000 tons of sheet steel last week at three times the market price. Most of the hardware makers say their sources are assured for at least three more months, but they all expect to be paying premiums soon.

"Even if we get enough of one metal, something else is short," complains the lawn mower producer. "What's the use of making one part if we can't get the materials for another?"

Seed Sellers

About the only exhibitor not worried about materials shortages are the seed sellers. They work two years ahead and already have their seeds packaged for next year. But 1952—that's another question. Paper for packaging is already growing short, and seed men fear the Government may allocate seeds as it did during the last war.

Cabinet Turnover Under Truman Sets New Record

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON — (U)—Harry Truman has had more cabinet members than any other president.

During his five and a half years in the White House, 39 different persons have served in his cabinet at one time or another. U. S. Grant had 24, Franklin D. Roosevelt 24, Theodore Roosevelt 23, and John Tyler 20.

Those figures may be misleading unless you realize that President Truman, Theodore Roosevelt, and Tyler each inherited one whole cabinet of someone else's choosing. To illustrate: when Mr. Truman took office after F.D.R.'s death, he found a 10-member cabinet already there, and he has brought in only 20 new men since that time. And F.D.R., of course, served longer than any other president, so his normal turnover would be higher.

Actually he has made 22 appointments. He named George C. Marshall twice—as secretary of state in 1947 and as secretary of defense last month. And he named James Forrestal as secretary of defense in 1947 after inheriting him as secretary of the navy.

Mr. Truman has removed some cabinet members who weren't in harmony with him. He has shifted a couple to other jobs. Some have resigned because of ill health or other personal reasons. One died in office.

The cabinet is an interesting institution in American history. It grew up by custom, rather than by law. The Constitution says nothing about a cabinet. George Washington started it in 1789 when he began calling in department heads as his advisers. The word "cabinet" began to be applied to these meetings in about 1793. As a group the cabinet is only advisory. But the members, as department heads, must be confirmed by the Senate.

At first the cabinet had only four or five members. As new departments were created, it grew to seven by 1819, and to ten by 1913. The members then were the secretaries of state, treasury, war, navy, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor, and the attorney general and postmaster general.

In 1947 the number was reduced to nine when the job of secretary of defense was created and he became the only representative of the armed services in the cabinet. Last year Congress raised cabinet salaries from $15,000 to $22,500 a year.

Good Evening . . .

LOST AND FOUND—Charles Sherlock, Escanaba post office employee, tells me that Lewis H. Neitzel (sought by Tracers Company of America as a "missing stockholder") is not dead and should be comparatively easy to locate.

You may recall a recent column in which we reported Tracers Company's search for Mr. Neitzel, who some time ago was known to be at the Sherman hotel in Escanaba.

Neitzel is employed with the National Cash Register company, makes occasional trips to Escanaba, and the Sherlocks received a Christmas card from him postmarked Scott's Bluff, Nebraska. Neitzel's work as a cash register repairman requires him to move often—but he should be easy to locate through his company, Charles Sherlock added.

And Sherlock—like Sherlock Holmes—has the solution to the case of the missing stockholder: Letters addressed to Neitzel at the Sherman hotel were returned marked "Return To Sender."

The post office department will make an effort to locate the addressee if first class mail is marked "Not Here" or "Please Forward." Under the circumstances, Neitzel should not be hard to find and Sherlock will supply Tracers Company with the information he has.

NOT SO BIG—Currently there is considerable publicity concerning the big bear bagged by a Hamtramck, Mich., bow and arrow hunter north of Newberry.

"Conservation department game men speculate that the over 600-pound male bear also may be larger than any taken with a gun," speculates the conservation department.

The bear killed with an arrow north of Newberry was seven feet and two inches in length.

Allan Tweedy of Escanaba, assistant district conservation supervisor, recalls "Old Three Toes," the great bear that terrorized the St. Nicholas area in Delta county for many years. He came to his end about 1944 after killing many cattle on the Phil and Adolph Lippens farms.

"Old Three Toes" measured seven feet and eight inches in length Allen Tweedy said—and Allen should know for he did the measuring. The big bear of Delta county was six inches longer than the one now receiving publicity as the biggest bear ever killed in Michigan.

FATAL HIDEAWAY—Will Marble of Gladstone directs attention to a bit of safety advice that should be heeded by all parents—and their children.

This is the time when children like to gather piles of leaves and play in them. Sometimes this is done at the side of the street and children bury each other in the concealing leaves.

Drivers of automobiles and trucks may accidentally run their vehicles through the leaves—injuring or killing the hiding children.

Children must be trained not to play in the street and, while they are still at an age when the danger of traffic is not apparent to them, they must be made to play where they are safe from death beneath the wheels of passing cars.

MODERATION MESSAGE—One of the nation's leading distillers, intent only on discouraging the sale of its product, of course, is running "moderation messages" in leading sportsmen's magazines.

Briefly, the distiller is urging sportsmen to drink only after coming in from hunting. "Hit the bird—not the bottle!" is the advice of the liquor manufacturer.

Drinking "can make things very dangerous," reports the distiller, shaking a warning bottle at the sportsman.

We would like to see this distiller, and others, urge the following groups also to drink only in moderation in the interests of safety and human welfare:

Motorists, fathers and mothers, young people, fishermen, tourists, bridge players, mountain climbers, school teachers, and officials in government.

All of these people, too, need "a mighty steady hand, a mighty quick eye."

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Florence, Ariz.—Tom Mix, 60, cowboy-actor and hero of scores of western thrillers of the silent film era, was killed 13 miles south of here today as he was pinned under his overturned automobile on a highway detour.

Escanaba—W. R. Smith, William J. Smith and Fred J. Earle left Saturday for South Dakota, where they will spend several days pheasant hunting.

Gladstone—Several persons luckily escaped injury when the Victor Goodman home slipped from its supports and fell into the excavation made in preparation for construction of a basement beneath it. The structure was badly damaged.

20 YEARS AGO

Los Angeles—First member of her race to reach the heights of grand opera is Miriam Lelani, a Chinese-Hawaiian girl who is hailed by voice experts as a "second Marion Talley."

Menominee—A completely demoralized Escanaba high school football team lost their annual classic to Menominee yesterday at Walton Blech field here by 38 to 0. It was the fourth straight defeat suffered by the Eskymos and was the most decisive defeat since 1912 when the Maroons won by 53 to 0.

Oconomowoc, Wis.—Fred Pabst, Sr., head of the Milwaukee brewing concern bearing his name, today announced that nearly one million dollars worth of equipment for making legalized beer is being installed in his company's plant. The new equipment will be held in readiness to start the manufacture of beer on short notice.

Despite laws, some cities still have the smoke nuisance. Where there is too much smoke there should be some firing.

FUN AT KIWANIS YOUTH CENTER—Dancing, ping-pong, basketball, checkers, darts and many other forms of recreation are offered at the Kiwanis youth center at 1325 Sheridan road, North Escanaba, which held its formal opening last Monday night. The youth center will be open afternoons and evenings for entertainment of boys and girls from 5 to 19 years of age. The establishment of the center was a project of the boys and girls work committee of the Kiwanis club with John Eden as chairman. (Daily Press Photo)

British Policy Changes With Loss Of Empire

By MARQUIS CHILDS

LONDON—Not so many years ago this capital was the focus of the greatest imperium of modern times. The boast about the sun never setting on the British empire was truthful as well as proud. In the interval since that empire vanished—except for stray bits and pieces in various corners of the globe—a remarkable transition has taken place. By conscious, careful, skillful policy the British have been changing over from imperial master to friendly partner.

They are frankly amazed at the success they have had thus far in this quick-change act. After performing as the high-handed British Raj for a great many years, they would not have been surprised at being shoved out once and for all with the door permanently closed against any kind of relationship.

The instrument of change is that international club known as the British commonwealth. It is hardly necessary to add that the old rules of exclusion coming out of the century of empire have long since been junked.

Commonwealth Conference
There has just concluded here a commonwealth conference operating under the new rules—on Southeast Asia. While the test of performance is still to come, on the score of agreed objectives and plans for the future, it seems to have been highly successful.

As the tensions in Asia build up, there seems little hope of any kind of peace whether short term or long term. But if there is a ray of hope left, it is in the patient, painstaking approach to real co-operation seen here.

Around the conference table were representatives of India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand and Britain, with other commonwealth countries participating from time to time. They drew up a prospectus for the development of the great underdeveloped areas of Southeast Asia. And at a later session this program was taken up with representatives of Burma, Indonesia and other Asian countries not part of the commonwealth.

The prospectus includes a technical assistance bureau to furnish technological aid. It includes a careful scheduling of repayments on the sterling debt that Britain ran up in these countries during World War II. And it contains at least the tentative outline of a program of capital investment, with emphasis on developmental loans from the International bank. Some of the steps will be carried out at once. This represents practical progress toward East-West understanding and eventual partnership.

Capital From U. S.

While they are discreet in talking about it, the British planning this co-operative policy are hopeful that American efforts in behalf of Southeast Asia can become a part of the whole program. Assistant Secretary of State George McGee was an unofficial observer at the commonwealth conference. Capital investment, whether public or private, must come in considerable part from the only great pool of surplus capital—and that is in the United States.

Policy planners here have borne in mind the warning given by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India three years ago. At a conference on commonwealth relations in the new and empireless world, Nehru in effect said: "You can fight Communism in Asia, but you can't fight both communism and nationalism. If you try to fight nationalism, you will be driven out of Asia." In other words, to resist the national aspirations of people who have lived long under colonialism would be a fatal error. In part, at least, this is behind Nehru's attitude on China. He believes that the Chinese Communists, given a moderate policy in the west, will develop independence of the Soviet Union even though their economy and government may be Communist. That is to say, they would follow the example of Yugoslavia.

A lot of the credit for the success of the recent conference and the new approach to new Asian states goes to two exceptionally able younger men in the labor government. Patrick Gordon-Walker, minister of commonwealth relations, and Hugh Gaitskell, minister of economics, have nursed the whole project along with care and understanding. Gaitskell, who was chairman at most of the sessions, is sitting in as chancellor of the exchequer in the absence of Sir Stafford Cripps, and he may take the job permanently if Cripps' ill health forces him to retire.

As with President Truman's point 4 program, this is a signpost to a decent and a peaceful world. And that remains true even though it appears sometimes as though all signs pointing to reason and moderation will be ignored.

Time To Watch Bureaucrats

Government Spends Many Billions

By ROGER W. BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass.—It is amazing that so many millions of people in this "land of the free" have so little idea or concern as to what is done with their hard-earned cash after paying it to the government in taxes. The American people have acquired a reputation for having made democracy work as neither it nor any other system of government has thus far worked in the history of the world. Yet, few of our citizens really know much about how the government spends or what benefits the people actually receive from this vast sum of money.

We all should know where our tax dollars are going and whether they are being wisely spent. Our children should know more about money matters, especially as they concern Congressmen as they make appeals for re-election. If more Congressmen had a better understanding of the value of a dollar and a better appreciation of true social welfare, it would not be so easy for bureaucratic parasites to waste our money.

The Tax Load
In view of the coming elections, I will confine myself here to federal taxes and expenses, though much of what I mention might just as well be applied to state and local government taxes and expenses. Federal taxes have been increasing since the early part of the present century. Naturally, the national growth created the need for expanding our government expenditures; but unfortunately, as government grew bigger, individual and corporate incentive and initiative have been steadily undermined. This has been the fault of our Congressmen.

A review of our federal tax structure would reveal an astonishing number of taxes, still in effect, which were enacted as "temporary" measures, throughout the past fifty years. The most recent examples are the obnoxious excise taxes placed on the statute books early in World War II. Our Congressmen have added to the tax burden slowly so as to attract a minimum of unfavorable public attention. Now they try to sell us the idea that all these increases were necessary steps in the process of our coming of age as a nation. This is not true.

Time To Be Alert
Now the bureaucrats are asking for more billions of dollars and already are framing laws which will make it possible for Uncle Sam to help himself to a much larger share of your income and mine. In these days of inflated values, it costs a great deal to carry on a military campaign even in an area as limited as Korea. Thus, I suppose we must be resigned to this demand for more taxes. Let us not, however, be so carried away by the tension of the times that we surrender any more of our hard won liberties and rights to the bureaucrats. Let us make our Congressmen responsible to us in fact as they are in theory.

Indifference was chiefly responsible for our getting into the jam in which we now find ourselves as far as taxes are concerned. We were too ready to agree to the imposition of additional tax burdens in years past because we were high-pressured or cajoled into thinking there was no other course open to us. Businessmen, who knew better, contented themselves with merely denouncing our tax policies, and their protests were largely ignored. I hope we will all be more realistic about taxes in the future and that we will make our voices heard and our wills felt in the coming elections. If we fail to do this, we shall certainly lose more than our dollars in the critical times ahead.

No Money
I do not approve of handing over much of the country's cash to support certain groups or classes of the people at the expense of all the people. That is undemocratic. It is also financially dangerous, especially when we need all our money for productive things. I am not against moderate farm supports for basic farm products, but I am opposed to the indiscriminate use of tax dollars which tends to make dairy or potato farmers a favored class.

A foolhardy farm support program might not break the country financially, in the years ahead, but eventually it could lead to the enslavement of the farmers themselves. New and higher taxes we shall probably have. They need not be much higher if each of us will take the time to impress upon those who are now up for election the acute need for drastic cuts in nonessential federal spending.

Moonshine Cooking In Farmhouse Attic Found By Raiders

MONROE, Mich. — (AP)—Three men are being held by federal officials after state troopers raided a Monroe county farmhouse and found a batch of moonshine cooking in the attic.

The troopers turned the men over to the federal alcohol tax unit of the treasury department. The 50-gallon still was found by Flat Rock post troopers on a farm in Exeter township in the northern part of the county. Officers said this was the fourth still raid in about two years in that vicinity.

Red-Nosed Rudolph Cavorts
On Small Fry's Nightwear

By GAILE DUGAS

NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — The whimsical Rudolph, a reindeer with a red nose, has turned up lately in nightwear for youngsters. He dashes gaily over the surface of sanforized flannellette, to the delight of small girls who own him. He's been on a fabric which is, of course, completely washable. A small blue Rudolph robe (left) is fun for little girls from nursery age up. It's printed in a sprightly design and quilted inside and out for warmth. It sports notched pockets and sleeves and is piped in matching color. The two-piece pajamas (right), designed also for small girls, are in pink with contrasting Rudolph print which shows the reindeer reaching the North Pole. Pom-pom buttons, tight-knit anklets and wristlets, round collar and the pocket flap all are in red.

Wedding Shower

Miss Maybelle Witte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Witte, was guest of honor at a wedding shower held Tuesday evening at the Sacred Heart church basement. Miss Witte will become the bride of Edmund Lasnoski Oct. 21.

Friends and relatives enjoyed games of 500 and buncos. Winners were Mrs. Art Levesque, Mrs. Aime Derouin, Mrs. William Savage, Mrs. Mary Grugen, Mrs. Art Meyers, Mrs. Louis Butryn and Mrs. Art Levesque.

Following a delicious lunch, Miss Witte displayed her many lovely gifts.

Out-of-town guests at the party were Mesdames William Lavallie, Clarence Theoret, Art Levesque, Art Lantagne, Ed Lantagne, William Lantagne and Clarence LaMarche of Danforth, Mrs. Henry Lynaugh, Barbara Lasnoski and Mrs. Art Meyers of Gladstone, Mrs. John Lasnoski, Mrs. Chester Rice, Mrs. Charles Thamel, Mrs. Henry Dame, Mrs. Don Caron, Mrs. Peter O'Donnell, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Frank Nelson, Mrs. Ernie Pernier and Mrs. Robert Trotter of Escanaba.

Mrs. Robert Porath and daughter, Roberta, Mrs. Hilving Olson of Ford River, Mrs. Joe Goudrault, Mrs. Art Pernier and Mrs. Ellsworth Nault of Bark River, Mrs. Gus Porath of Newberry, Mrs. Paul Levesque of Rock, Mrs. Anthony Fassbender of Chicago, Mrs. Chester Scheon and Miss Helen Vetrovec of Perronville and Mrs. Phil Caron of Wells.

Oysters are delicious in a club sandwich. Fry bacon strips and then cook the oysters lightly in the fat remaining in the skillet when the bacon strips are moved. Sandwich the bacon and oysters between toast slices with lettuce, tomatoes and mayonnaise.

Today's Recipes

Mrs. P. H. Smith of Escanaba who has been a subscriber to the Escanaba Daily Press for 33 years, has given the department her recipe for a delicious carrot pudding.

Carrot Pudding
One cup raw ground carrots
One cup raw ground potatoes
One cup raw ground suet
One cup ground raisins
One cup brown sugar
One teaspoon soda
Nutmeg and cinnamon to taste.
Steam. Serve with cream or lemon and brown sugar sauce. This may be reheated when wanted.

A few days ago, Mrs. Julius Larson, of 223 Maple street, Manistique noted a request in the Daily Press for a recipe for preparing brown beans, Swedish style. She guarantees this one as a splendid smorgasbord dish. Here it is:

2 cups brown beans, 1 tablespoon butter, ½ cup of sugar, 2 tablespoons vinegar, salt, flour to slightly thicken.
Wash beans and put on to boil in cold water, simmer until tender (about three hours) adding more hot water if necessary. When done add rest of ingredients. Serve hot.

California Fort To Be State Park
LEBEC, Calif., (AP)—California is making a state park of historic Ft. Tejon, the only fort erected to protect and rehabilitate Indians. High in Tejon Pass, which winds through the Tehachapi mountains linking the Los Angeles plain with the San Joaquin valley, workers are restoring barracks almost a century old.

Gen. E. F. Beale, then superintendent of Indian affairs, ordered the fort built in 1854. His idea was to make the Indian self sufficient by teaching him agriculture.

Crooked Cops Find Loophole

New York Police Retire From Jobs

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—The other day a 57-year-old police inspector named Frederick Holsaes turned in his suit—or "threw in his papers," as the cops say. The night before he had been named as the owner of one of the television sets bestowed to members of the police force by Bookie Harry Gross, admitted briber of police to the extent of a million a year.

When Holsaes dropped in his resignation he was the twenty-first policeman to resign voluntarily under the pressurized cooking of the police-bookie corruption investigation here, a scandal that is reaching higher and higher as the shoddy folds unfurl. Holsaes quit because he was facing a contempt action for his evasive answers to a special grand jury concerned with graft.

As a civilian, as a retired cop on pension, he avoids standing police departmental trial. As a functioning cop, he had either to sign an immunity waiver or forfeit his job and pension rights.

Another Loophole

He signed the waiver, appeared before the grand jury and then quit his job. It is believed in official circles that the waiver still is in effect, despite his retirement. But it is also conceded that this may become a point of law if he again is called before the grand jury.

This instantaneous retirement loophole is an archaic escape hatch designed to give a suspected policeman a foolproof way out of any touch trouble he may become involved in. District Attorney Miles McDonald describes it as a "deadly impediment" to investigation, and so it is, as well as a disgraceful gesture of contempt for law, order and the taxpayer.

Suppose you have a policeman—a mythical policeman, let us say—who has had his claws in the crock for years, stacking the loot quietly away against the day he quits the force. In so doing, among other things, he is cheating the bureau of internal revenue, since a cop only makes so much money and doesn't report his outside take from bribes and gifts and shakedown.

All of a sudden you catch some of these fellows and you drag them up for testimony. This testimony, they know, is a dead cinch to draw them a perjury conviction or subject them to criminal liability for themselves and higher ups.

So they just scribble a few lines into a retirement form, toss it into the hopper and as of that moment they are no longer subject to departmental trial and can refuse to sign the everloving waiver. Home free—almost.

What About Taxpayer?

Except that I do not think that people who pay heavy city taxes particularly care to support an admittedly crooked cop in reasonable ease for the rest of his life, because he suddenly got the wind up and quit his job for retirement pay when the searching fingers got too close to his neck. My personal tax money goes into this pot, and I am real sore.

I am sore about petty grafts apart from bookie ice, that some cops work, such as charging a few bucks a week for allowing individuals to park cars on forbidden streets, and all the other lousy little shakedowns that our "finest" and undoubtedly your policemen in other places have operated from ancient time.

A dishonest cop has unlimited license to steal, and has stolen with the approval and complicity of his superiors. The structure of his employment—punishment by transfer and demotion, instead of dismissal, and the right to quit under fire without losing his pension—is deliberately shaped to encourage and perpetuate graft and corruption of high and low.

Prosecutor McDonald has asked for a revision of the resignation-for-retirement rizzo, which aim is bitterly fought by the patrolmen's benevolent association, since the mouse never lived who sought to outlaw cheese.

But if we can get anywhere with this cleanup they got to fix it so a suspect can't dodge complicity by merely filing retirement papers. Meantime, I imagine bureau of internal revenue agents

Fire Control Advice Given

Leonard Outlines Prevention Tips

Declaring that "fire control is largely a question of self-control," Glenford S. Leonard, director of public safety today said that the country's daily fire loss is about $2,000,000.

Urging everyone to participate in Fire Prevention Week, October 3-14, sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association, Leonard said the "principal value of the week is the opportunity to emphasize the relationship between good living habits and fire prevention."

"Anyone knows it's foolish and dangerous to smoke in bed; yet, enough people continued to take a chance to make smoking in bed the leading cause of death from fire last year. Fire prevention experts can do not more than point out the danger. It's up to the individual to exercise self-control."

As another example of carelessness and indifference, Leonard referred to 24,000 fires started by children playing with matches. "It's just a question of keeping matches out of the reach of small children. Don't leave match packs around where kids can pick them up, and keep kitchen matches in metal containers, and away from hot stoves. Or take the housewife who knowingly uses explosive cleaning fluids instead of non-explosive types, such as carbon tetrachloride. There were 41,300 fires last year due to careless use and storage of flammable liquids."

Still another case the director cited was a housewife who left an iron connected while "chatting over the back fence. When she returned, the iron was in the basement suspended by the cord and still operating. It had burned through the ironing board and the floor without setting the house ablaze."

Asked to define the leading causes of fire in addition to carelessness with matches and smoking, explosive cleaning fluids, and improper usage of electrical appliances, Leonard listed the following:

Misuse of electricity — 70,200 fires—Be sure the wiring is adequate. Have plenty of outlets. Don't overload circuits. Don't operate defective equipment. Replace frayed cords.

Defective heating equipment — 49,500 fires—Keep the fire in the fire pot by making repairs promptly and cleaning yearly. Enclose the furnace in a separate room with fire-resistant walls, and cover exposed woodwork above the heating plant with fire-resistant material.

Defective chimneys — 25,800 fires—Clean the chimney at least once a year. Don't let woodwork be in contact with the chimney which should be free-standing, neither supported by the house nor lending support to it.

Sparks on roofs — 23,500 fires—Recover old wooden shingle roofs with some fire-resistant roofing material, such as asphalt shingles, slate, tile, etc. The combination of old flammable roof tops and high winds is the main cause of conflagrations.

"Sensible living habits are vitally needed to reduce the fire loss drastically," Leonard concluded. "At least 90 percent of the 11,000 deaths last year and 90 percent of the dollar loss could have been prevented."

Rock

Honored at Party

ROCK—Mrs. A. M. Snyder, of Gladstone, a former Rock resident, was guest of honor at a party at the home of Mrs. Charles Carlson. Mrs. Snyder is moving to Rice Lake, Wis., to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brehmer, also former Rock residents.

She was given a gift as a memento of the occasion. Those present besides Mrs. Snyder included Rev. and Mrs. Theophil Hoffman of Gladstone, Mesdames Herman Johnson, Martin Falck, Cordelia Trombly, August Larson, sr., Paul Ramseth, G. E. Weingartner, Clarence Larson, Ed Hunt, Charles Larson and Charles Carlson.

Talk Furnace For Clubhouse

Golfers, Skiers May Join In Project

If plans are consummated the clubhouse at the Gladstone Golf Club, used by golfers in summer and skiers in winter, will have a heating system to replace the stove or heater which has been in use since the clubhouse was built.

Norman Harris, president of the Gladstone Ski club said yesterday the club was planning on joining with the golf club in financing the installation of a furnace to heat the structure.

Plans for the ski jump tower and platform prepared by the Central Ski association for the local club cannot be located, Mr. Harris said, and efforts are to be made to obtain a duplicate set.

Dues for the coming season have been increased to some extent to provide as nearly as possible the amount of revenue needed to finance activities of the club. Fees for adults will be $3.00 and for juniors $2.00.

A second meeting of the ski club is scheduled for Monday evening at the city hall.

'Fleagle' Chatfield Gives Bird To His Hunting Companion

Last weekend, Larry Johnston, B. C. Chatfield and Russell Herick, expressman, tireman and floriculturist, respectively, went hunting birds in the vicinity of their deer hunting camp north of Nahma Junction.

Reaching the hunting area they separated and shortly thereafter the sound of two shots from the area in which Johnston should be heard.

Alerted by the shots, Chatfield watched carefully and his efforts were rewarded when a partridge appeared flying overhead. Off came the safety on his gun, but as he raised it to his shoulder to aim, the bird crumpled and dropped to the ground in front of him.

Meeting shortly thereafter, Ben inquired of Larry as to what he had shot at. "Birds. Got one and thought I hit the other but couldn't find it," said Johnston.

"Not so good," said Chatfield. "All I have to do is look at them and start raising my gun and they give up. I got one, too, but I didn't have to fire a shot."

Then Ben held out the bird and gave it to his hunting companion.

Churchill Optimistic Over Prospects For Peace With Russians

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—(P)—Winston Churchill believes a lasting settlement may be reached with Russia to insure mankind "a long period of peace."

Britain's wartime prime minister sounded this optimistic note in a speech here Tuesday. He also declared the world is a safer place to live in tonight than it was three months ago because of the United Nations action in Korea.

He told a banquet audience that the great alliance of western powers will lead "to a situation in which some kind of lasting settlement may be made with the Soviet government, and will enable, at any rate, a long interlude of peace to stand between mankind and the horrors of another war."

The British statesman came to Copenhagen to receive a 100,000 kroner ($14,000) prize for persons making significant contributions to science and culture during the year.

Two Ferris Students Will Study In Jail For Stealing Beer

BIG RAPIDS, Mich.—(P)—It's school or jail for two Ferris Institute students for the next 85 days.

That was the sentence meted out Tuesday to Russell Sessions, 21, Lansing, and Elmer Schultz, 21, Saginaw, by Justice of the Peace Milton J. Kelly.

They pleaded guilty to larceny charges in the theft of eight cases of beer from a warehouse which they said they took "just as a lark."

Originally they demanded examination on breaking and entering charges but pleaded guilty when the count against them was reduced to larceny.

Judge Kelly ordered Sessions, a fullback on the Ferris football team, and Schultz to be held in jail except for the time actually spent in classrooms.

They also were assessed fines of $100 each and costs.

Women Plan Aid For Hospital

Form Auxiliary At Meeting Wednesday

Formation of a women's auxiliary for the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital was perfected at a meeting at the court house Wednesday evening.

A set of officers was elected, preliminary activities were mapped out, and the work of this very important assisting unit was immediately set in motion with plans for a shower of canned fruits, jams and jellies to be used by the hospital patients when occasion demands.

Officers elected were Mrs. Leon Nicholson, president; Mrs. Russell Watson, vice president; Mrs. Aided Farley, secretary and Mrs. Ira Crawford, treasurer. Directors will be Mrs. John Lustilla, Jr., of Germfask; Mrs. John Stoor, of Thompson; Mrs. William McEachern, of Cooks; Mrs. James Wieland, of Hiawatha township.

About eighty women have registered and volunteered service to the organization. Membership is still open to all women in Schoolcraft county who wish to assist with the work.

Prior to the organization of the Auxiliary, A. J. Cayia, chairman of the board of trustees, addressed the meeting telling of various ways women of the community could help make the hospital service function more fully. James Boyce, managing director of the hospital also spoke urging that immediate steps be taken to organize the auxiliary.

The shower of canned goods planned at the meeting as the first gesture of good will, will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor and will be elaborated on at a later date.

There will be a meeting of the executive board of the Auxiliary on the afternoon of Thursday, October 19 at 2:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Leon Nicholson.

The next regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be at the court house on the evening of Tuesday, November 9.

Fawn And Spaniel Are Good Friends At Curtis Hotel

The friendliness and neighborliness of Curtis residents is well known. Curtis is a resort town and doing things to make the sojourner happy and contented is a habit with those who inhabit the place. And friendliness is not confined to those of the human species. Take, for instance, Bambi and Baby, the fawn and springer spaniel who make their home with Louise and Wilford Brown, proprietors of Brown's hotel in Curtis.

Strangers have been thrilled by the experience of having a young deer muzzle up to them and beg for food. And any overture of friendship is reciprocated by the creature of the wild who just dotes on petting. The dog is always nearby, wiggling friendly approval.

The two have been inseparable companions ever since early last summer when Bambi was rescued a few minutes after a passing motorist had killed its mother. The animals became friends immediately when the shivering little fawn snuggled up to Baby's roly poly body and found warmth there.

The two often share their food, but that is no longer an every day rite. Baby likes meat and prepared canine foods while Bambi is strictly vegetarian and likes such things as apples and potatoe vesicles which Baby disdains. Both, however, have a fondness for candy and peanuts which they mooch from anyone who enters the hotel. The dog taught the deer to garner these tidbits, but Bambi now leads in this petty racket.

The town is now just as much of a household pet as the dog and sleeps indoors most of the time, using space under the grand piano in the ballroom as its private sleeping quarters. Bambi is definitely of the male persuasion and rudimentary horns are beginning to form on the top of its head.

He will be under constant surveillance this coming month lest some so-called "sportsman" carry him home as a trophy.

Good Will Tour Is Successful

Evening Banquet Is Crowning Gesture

Manistique businessmen, numbering about forty, paid a neighborly call to communities to the east of the city, spending the afternoon watching the potato harvest in McMillan township and visiting in Germfask and Curtis.

A great share of the time of the afternoon was spent at the Richards Brothers' farm in McMillan township where workers are harvesting and storing potatoes at a rate of 1,500 bushels a day. About 25,000 bushels, it is estimated will be harvested at this place and the work is about half accomplished.

In Midst of Harvest

There are 85 acres of potatoes in this year's crop, Lester Richards stated, with thirty-five acres given over to potatoes of the russet variety, two acres to Pontiacs and the rest to Burbanks. About half of the crop is for certified seed and the rest will be table stock potatoes.

The yield will be up to the general average, Richards said, although frost had cut the yield to some extent.

The visitors watched with particular interest the use of a new type of machine which is used preliminarily to the digging operation. The machine cuts off and grinds up all potatoe and weed roots and thus makes more simple the digging and sacking operations.

Members of the party also made a tour of the farm and viewed, among other things, the irrigation system the Richards Brothers have installed for use on the far end of their premises. Each member of the caravan was rewarded with a peck of newly harvested potatoes.

Visit Dairy Farm

From the Richards farm the caravan proceeded to the Alpine Dairy Farm, operated by Pete Delmarre. This farm is devoted to the raising of fine blooded cattle and the bottling of milk and cream which is sold in Newberry. Two types of dairy cattle are maintained on the farm—Guernseys and Brown Swiss—with purebred sires heading the herd. A large percentage of the acreage of the farm is also devoted to the production of potatoes.

Banquet In Evening

In the evening the Manistique group was host to Curtis businessmen at a dinner, served at Sprague's resort. About twenty-five Curtis people attended this function besides members of the Manistique party. The affair was informal with Otter Schuster presiding. Ed Jewell led the singing with J. R. Nicholson of Curtis, furnishing guitar accompaniment.

The good will tour was sponsored by the Town of the Lakes Chamber of Commerce and engineered by William Frederick, chamber secretary.

GOP Candidates Pay Brief Visit To Manistique

Harry F. Kelly, former Michigan governor, and candidate for that office on the Republican ticket in the coming election paid Manistique a short and unscheduled call Thursday, devoting fifteen minutes to a talk before a group of Manistique residents who had been hastily summoned to meet him.

In his talk Kelly stated that the present campaign is not a fight between the Republican and the Democratic parties because the Democratic party has been taken over by a socialistic group that has usurped functions of that party through ruthless tactics of intimidation. He accused the Democratic party workers of Detroit and Flint of obtaining registrations virtually amounting to buying votes. He strongly urged that people interested in "good government" participate more freely in the campaign.

In Kelly's party were William Vandenberg, nominee for lieutenant governor; Frank Mallard, for attorney general; John D. Martin, for auditor general and D. Hale Brake, for state treasurer. They planned on attending a luncheon meeting at St. Ignace before crossing the ferry to Lower Michigan.

Howard Hewitt, county Republican chairman, presided at the meeting and introduced the guests.

Rugged Mountaineer 11 Plays Here Tomorrow

Homecoming At Stephenson This Evening

STEPHENSON — Stephenson will celebrate its second annual homecoming with a football game on the Sawbridge lighted field tonight at 8 o'clock. The Stephenson Eagles will entertain the Peshtigo Bulldogs.

The lighted field will be dedicated at the half-intermission by Herbert Corey, Village President. Dr. Edward Sawbridge will crown the queen for the evening.

The Stephenson high school band will participate in drill formations under the direction of William Tonkin. The American Legion drill team of Stephenson will present special drill maneuvers.

Escanaba and Iron Mountain—two Upper Peninsula high school football teams that are just a shade off from being top-notchers—will tangle at the high school athletic field Saturday afternoon in one of the high spots of the local season.

The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

It will find pitted against each other two teams which have somewhat similar records.

In the first place, they both have defeated Norway—Escanaba by 6-0 and Iron Mountain by 19-6.

Menominee Victims

And both have been victims of Menominee—Escanaba by 19-12 and Iron Mountain by 10-7.

For the rest of their records, Iron Mountain has disposed of Ishpeming and Niagara and lost to Stambaugh, while Escanaba has been nipped by Ironwood and has trimmed Sault Ste. Marie and Kingsford.

A fast, dry field probably will favor Coach Omer LaJeunesse's boys since they have plenty of speed in the backfield. On the other hand, a wet field could aid Escanaba because the locals have a heavy line that may be hard to move in soggy going.

In Bob Gingrass, a 160-pound speedster at quarterback, the Mountaineers have an explosive runner who has scored on long runs in every game this season. He not only is a fine runner but an excellent passer as well.

Good Backfield

Gingrass is surrounded in the backfield by Jack Pozza, Duane Cerasoli and Ted Tavonatti. The line will have Joe Steiner and Forrest Rousseau at ends, Ray Leclair and John Ganga at tackles, Earl Sjoberg and Jack Fortier at guards and Roger Peterson at center.

Escanaba's starting backfield probably will not be known until game time but it will include Casper Bartley, JoJo Johnston, Paul Gundersen, Tom Smith, Dick Cota, Mert McRae and probably Tom Schwabach.

Soo Entertains Emerald Crew

MANISTIQUE — Seeking their third victory of the season, Manistique high school gridders play at the Soo tonight with good chances of fulfilling their aims.

Coach John Vieregger said his boys were in good mental spirits despite a narrow 8-7 defeat by a strong Munising team last week.

An interesting scoring comparison is found in Munising's games with Manistique and with the Soo. In the opening game of the season, the Soo nipped Munising, 8 and 6.

Since that time, the Soo has failed to win a game and the Emeralds don't intend to let them break that string.

Vieregger said Halfback Jack Reque would not be ready for the game tonight as a result of a back injury suffered in the Munising game.

In an effort to get more weight in the backfield, Vieregger will use Bob Weber and Keith Jenkins.

Yanks Leave Mize In Doubt On Job

PORTLAND — (P) — Johnny Mize says he wants to know where he stands with the world Champion New York Yankees.

And as soon as he gets back to Gotham, he's going after a "yes or no" answer on his 1951 status.

"Big Jaxon," here for a rain-out exhibition game with Mickey Harris's all-stars, also said:

"I'll play baseball for someone next year but I don't know yet who it will be.

"If they (the Yanks) don't want me, I want to find out what you have to do to stay with the club."

Recent news stories emanating from the Yankee front office have made no mention of the 37-year-old Mize, but they have noted that several young first basemen might be brought up to the team next spring.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(P) — A Michigan State college student, Adolph Weinacker of Detroit, now holds the nation's 20-kilometer walking championship, long the property of fellow Detroiters Bill Mihalo. The 21-year-old veterinary student won the national test here yesterday after Mihalo was disqualified for failing to observe walking technique rules. Weinacker covered 12.4 miles in one hour, 40 minutes and 10.8 seconds.

Cross Country Run Scheduled For Saturday

The annual Upper Peninsula cross country run will be held between halves of the Escanaba-Iron Mountain football game at the athletic field Saturday afternoon.

Four teams are entered in the class B division—Escanaba, Ironwood, Marquette and Manistique. In CDE division, only Eben and Baraga are entered.

Menominee, defending champion, is not competing this year.

Coach Henry Wylie said today his Eskymo team would comprise Dave Zerbil, Glen Larsen, Brian Corcoran, Dave Gasman, Tom Fisher, Harland Yelland and Cleve Moore.

William Puckeltwill be the starter; George Grab and Jim Buelow, timers; and Oliver Koski, Clifford Roberts, Frank Miketina, Joe Petryk and Jack Romstad, judges of the finish.

Seven runners may enter from each school with the first five finishing from each school being counted in the scoring.

The CDE division runners will start the two mile event several minutes before the class B group. Medals will be given for the first 15 runners placing in each race. A trophy will be given the winning school in the class B event. None will be awarded in the CDE group because state regulations are that at least three schools must be entered before a trophy can be given.

Eskey Reserves Play At Noon

Escanaba high school reserve football team, defeated by Menominee and tied by Kingsford, will be seeking its first win of the season here Saturday.

The Eskymo Bees will meet the Iron Mountain reserves in a game starting at 12 o'clock.

The locals are coached by Jim Buelow and Frank Miketina.

They will be hampered by the loss of four of their top players to the varsity squad. They are Charles Bellefeuille, John and Richard Peterson and Don Guzonato.

Emerald Bees To Play Soo

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique reserve football team, victorious in four games this season, will entertain the Soo reserves Saturday night at 8:30 at A. F. Hall stadium.

The locals have defeated Negaunee Bees, 14-13; Gladstone, 21-0; Newberry, 14-13 and Munising, 13-0.

Ratterman, Young Give Yanks Win

NEW YORK — (P) — Thanks to Buddy Young and George Ratterman, the New York Yankees are in first place in the National division of the National football league today.

Young sprinted 15 yards in the last five minutes to give the Yanks a 29-24 victory over the winless San Francisco 49ers last night before 6,000 fans in the big Yankee stadium.

The victory enabled the Yanks to break a tie for the top rung with the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions who were idle.

Until Young broke away it appeared the Frankie Albert-steered 49-ers would win their first game of the year. The 49ers led 24 to 15 with Albert the main reason. Albert threw two touchdown passes and connected on 21 out of 33 attempts for 254 yards.

But Ratterman tossed four straight passes to make it 24-22.

Young's payoff score came after George Taliaferro returned a punt to the 48- or 40 yard line.

Crippled Trojans At Crystal Falls

Canadiens In Tie With Blackhawks

(By The Associated Press)

The Montreal Canadiens, lightly regarded in the National hockey league pennant picture, still have that old trait of finishing strong.

With Bill Durnan, their great goalie, and Ken Reardon, their hard-hitting defenseman, retired, the Canadiens are not as dangerous as they were in years past but they still have the one and only Maurice (the Rocket) Richard and that flaming spirit to win.

The red and white clad Frenchmen opened their season last night and the largest opening crowd in Montreal forum, 14,224 fans turned out to watch their favorites battle the revamped Chicago Blackhawks to a 3-3 tie.

It will be Trojan against Trojan Saturday at Crystal Falls when St. Joseph high school gridders meet Coach George Rehnstrand's last traveling crew.

"We'll give them a good name but I'm afraid they have a little too much stuff for us," said Coach Tom St. Germain today.

Crystal Falls, after an opening 13-7 defeat by Norway, has come fast in chalking up victories over Baraga, Bessemer, Wakefield and Stephenson.

Norway is the only mutual foe of the two teams. While Crystal Falls was losing to Norway by one touchdown, St. Joe lost by three.

The Falls crew has Dwaine Brooks at quarter, Ronnie LaChapelle, Duke Valine or Bob Chigo at the halves and Dave Sabo at fullback. The line will include Bob Sedenburgh and Earl LeVernois, tackles; Jim Stacy and Ben Peterson, guards, and Dean Christofferson, center.

Coach Tom St. Germain probably will have Bill Baker at quarterback, Pete Kutches and John Martine halves and Don Paulin at fullback. The line will include Bob Sedenburgh and Earl LeVernois, tackles; Jim Stacy and Ben Peterson, guards and Wayne Papineau at center.

Giles Would End Famed Bonus Rule

CINCINNATI — (P) — Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds and a long time supporter of baseball's bonus rule, said today he believed the rule should be thrown out entirely for a year and then revised.

Giles said "we have to work like the dickens to keep it last year." Now, he admitted, he has changed his mind. He thinks it should be revised drastically.

Nation Eyes Wolves In Tilt With Army

NEW YORK — (P) — Army, the nation's No. 1 football machine by vote of the experts, will be pitted to its first real test of the season when it meets Michigan before a sell-out crowd of nearly 70,000 tomorrow at Yankee stadium.

In two games thus far the Cadets have swept over Colgate, 28-0, and Penn State 41 to 7, and there is little doubt that Coach Earl Blaik has built another powerful offensive unit around such backs as Gil Stephenson, Al Pollock, Jim Cain and Frank Eschall.

Michigan, upped in its opener by Michigan State, 14 to 7, will be out both to get back in the running for National honors and avenge a 21 to 7 licking by Army last year at Ann Arbor. The latter defeat broke a 21-game Michigan winning streak. Army carries an unbeaten string of 22 games into tomorrow's struggle.

The 2 p. m. (EST) kickoff will find Michigan facing a somewhat conditioned Cadet squad that has been back to back and a large batch of highly touted linemen.

Michigan, thinner this year and handicapped by two key injuries, will be meeting veteran backfield like Gil Stephenson, Jim Cain, Frank Eschall and a reportedly sensational sophomore, Al Pollock.

And the Army's new quarterback, Bob Blaik, is said to be even better than his smart predecessor, Arnold Coffey, and just as adept at switching passes to the Army's great star, Can Pollock.

Ortmann Not Ready

The Wolverines' lacking the tremendous depth of the army squad that hasn't been beaten in 22 games, crossed their fingers for the ankle strain which has cut the efficiency of halfback Chuck Ortmann since it was incurred in the opener against Michigan State.

"Ortmann's only about 50 percent up to par," said Coach Bennie Oosterbaan. "And Al Wahl (captain and tackle) has not recovered from a knee injury as quickly as we had hoped."

If Ortmann misses the host, Oosterbaan stands ready to substitute utility man Don Peterson.

But he also is ready to lose Michigan's biggest weapon, that's Ortmann's throwing to sophomore end Lovell Perry and the veterans Harry Allis and Orzie Clark. It is generally regarded as the chief and perhaps only wolverine hope of victory.

Hoople And Dr. Zlobotny Foresee Eskey Defeat

Egad! Innate modesty forbids my mentioning the name of the football forecaster whose name tops all the rest as far as upsets are concerned. The initials of this peerless prognosticator, however, are A. B. H., just the same as my own—huh-heh!

Indeed, I deem it proper to crow a bit, even though I did receive a scurrilous letter from a reader charging that the reason I picked so many upsets was because I was ignorant. Imagine that!

It was Hoople who gave you Southern Methodist to beat a six point favorite in Ohio State, who gave you Iowa to surprise Southern California, Yale to overcome Brown, and Alabama to smear the champs from Tulane.

This week's most juicy morsels are Texas, to nose out Oklahoma and Syracuse to elude Penn State, right between the eyes, Pay no attention to other selectors' their endless jumbled charts of statistics. Get on the bandwagon with Hoople, who picks them according to Dr. Zlobotny's laws of inter-stellar contrapuntalism.

DiMag Not Sure He'll Be With Yanks In '51

NEW YORK — (P) — Joe DiMaggio, who finished the 1950 baseball season in a blaze of glory, is not sure he will return to the New York Yankees next year.

DiMaggio, discussing his ailments of the past season, said: "I finished strong, felt better than I had all season and really felt great in the series."

"But I can't be sure about next year. I'd like to know how my health is going to be. I don't want to go through 1950 all over again."

The Yankee star, who earned $100,000 this year, said he saw no reason for taking up contract negotiations at this time.

Weingartner Named to U. P. Athletic Unit

George E. Weingartner, superintendent of schools of Rock, has been elected to the Upper Peninsula high school athletic committee to represent class D schools.

Charles Forsythe, state director of athletics in Lansing, said today that Weingartner had received a majority of the 14 ballots cast in the recent election. The Rock superintendent is an incumbent.

On the vote for council member for schools under 325 students, 36 votes were cast but there was no majority so another vote will be taken. Names submitted for this vote are Weingartner, Supt. Leo McDonald of Gwinn and Coach Karl Parker of Benzie. Weingartner will not be a candidate for this post in the second election, however.

There also was no majority of 4 votes cast for a committee member to represent coaches. On the second vote, candidates will be Edie Chambers of Crystal Falls and Parker.

The U. P. athletic committee will meet Dec. 18 and 19 at Ishpeming to determine basketball tournament sites.

Illinois Favored To Beat Uclans

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Illinois, a pre-season candidate to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl football game next New Year's day, engages UCLA, a team with no such dreams in the Pacific coast conference, in an inter-sectional tilt tonight in Memorial coliseum.

The Illinois hopes were dented in the mud by one point in a 7-6 setback by Wisconsin last Saturday, while the surprising Bruins of UCLA missed out by a similar margin to Washington, 21-20.

The Illinois rule a firm one touchdown favorite tonight. Many observers think it should be larger, and hark back to the Rose Bowl game of 1947 when local UCLA admirers made them the favorites over Illinois and then saw the midwesterners trounce the Bruins by a 45-14 count.

'TRY AGAIN

YONKERS, N. Y. — (P) — Proximity and Pronto Don, top candidates for "harness horse of the year honors," will attempt to renew their feud at Yonkers raceway tonight. The two were scheduled to go in the $25,000 Gotham trot last night but the event was postponed due to rain and a sloppy track.

Pirates Give $75,000 For Coast Pitcher

NEW YORK — (P) — Major league baseball teams, finding it difficult to purchase established stars, are continuing to stock their 1951 teams with the cream of the nation's minor leagues.

The National League is especially active. The Pittsburgh Pirates shelled out $75,000 to the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific coast league to obtain pitcher Con Dempsey on a conditional basis.

Dempsey, who was the toast of the coast league in his rookie year in 1949, will be up with the Pirates for 30 days. Dempsey won 17 and lost 14 in 1949. Last season however he slumped to 8-9 but finished strong.

The St. Louis Cardinals purchased 11 players from their far flung minor league chain. The Red Birds bought third baseman Don Richmond, pitcher Ed Yuhas and outfielder Larry Cifone from their pennant winning Rochester International league team. They also bought pitchers Bob Habenicht, Kurt Krieger, catcher Bill Sarni and outfielder Larry Higgins from their junior world series champion Columbus American association affiliate. The Red Birds obtained pitcher

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

History repeats itself . . . 10 years ago this week, Escanaba was meeting Iron Mountain in football . . . two regulars on the Escanaba team, then as now, were Shomin and St. Martin . . . an end on Iron Mountain's team was LaJeunesse . . . Iron Mountain this year is coached by a LaJeunesse . . . incidentally, Escanaba won that game 10 years ago (score: 23-0) . . . will history repeat itself to that extent? . . . we hope so . . . but don't think so.

On the same line of thinking, 10 years ago this week St. Joe was playing Crystal Falls . . . just as it is doing this Saturday . . . then as now, one of St. Joseph's top backs was a Baker . . . in that meeting, the game ended in a tie, 12-12 . . . will the result be the same this year? . . . we hope so . . . but don't think so.

Also 10 years ago this week, there was an Upper Peninsula cross country meet between halves of the Iron Mountain-Escanaba football game, just as there is this year . . . Escanaba high school won that meet . . . will history repeat this year? . . . we dunno.

Getting back to the current, Floyd G. (Red) Leonard, Milwaukee Country club golf pro for 27 years, has resigned to devote full time to teaching at the San Marcus Hotel Golf club at Chandler, Ariz. . . "Red" is a brother of Cotton Leonard of Menominee, former Escanaba golf club pro . . . other Leonard brothers who are pros include Everett at Appleton's Butte des Morts club, Howard at Washington, Ind., Rud at Vincennes, Ind., Claude at Marinette and Herman at Bedford, Ind.

Howard Sullivan, Escanaba ice skater, has fallen . . . no, not on the ice . . . he's getting married Oct. 19 in Dallas, Tex., to Beverly Fields of Oakland, Calif.

We have it from the horse's mouth (Jack Bartel, an old Notre Damer) that the Irish "ain't what they used to be" . . . Jack saw that Irish-North Carolina game and, on leaving the stadium, told his son, Kermit: "This team is going to lose ball games this year." . . . Jack (wonder if he remembers our trip to Evanston for the Northwestern-Irish game 15 years ago—we were associating with Ted Baldwin in those days!) says Bob Williams is no Johnny Lujack, sportswriters or no sportswriters . . . now listen, you Irish fans, we're only telling you what Jack said . . . and we got a right to his opinions, ain't we?

Arnica And Old Tape Feature MSC Game

EAST LANSING — (P) — A drama of "arnica and old tape" unfolds here Saturday as two injury-riddled football teams, Michigan State and William and Mary, close the curtain on a two-game series.

The MSC Spartans, in their homecoming battle, go into the game with six first string players on the ailing list. The visiting W & M Indians have 16 players banged up in one way or another.

Even the two "stars" of the cast, high scoring ends Vito Ragazzo of W & M and Bob Carey of MSC are reported troubled with knee injuries. Both will see action, however. The same goes for most of the other ailing players.

The game, which may attract a crowd of 40,000 fans, could be the first step on the road back for either team. Michigan state was mauled, 34-7, by Maryland last week, while the injury-jinxed Indians were slaughtered by Wake Forest, 47-0.

Both coaches have been faced with the job of bringing their teams back. But Rube McCray of W & M has a slight advantage. He can point to a 42-13 beating his Southern conference champions took last year in the first meeting of the two teams.

Michigan State, however, will take the field as the overwhelming favorite, principally because of victories over Oregon State and Michigan. William and Mary has beaten only Cincinnati, bowing to VMI and Wake Forest.

Beside Carey, Spartan Coach Biggie Munn's injury list includes enter Dick Tamburo, sprained instep; right half Wayne Benson, bruised thigh; tackle Bill Horrell, bad ankle; guard John Tobin, bad ankle, and quarterback Al Dorow, bad ankle.

Dartball Players, Teams Are Wanted

Calling all dartball players! Men who want to play dartball this season or prefer to organize a team of their own will have the opportunity, says George LaCrosse, president of the Dartball association. Six sponsors now want additional players and if a team unit is organized sponsors will be found for them.

LaCrosse asks players to telephone the Kiwanis recreation center, No. 698, after 2 p. m. any afternoon, or LaCrosse at 1336, or Walt Thurston at 151-W to register.

Duck Hunters Start Banging; Ducks Late

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

Another wave of hunters start shooting at noon today (Friday) when the Upper Peninsula is opened to duck hunting.

Close on their heels, the small game hunters and the duck hunters of the Lower Peninsula open their season at 10 a. m. Sunday.

The Upper Peninsula has been open to upland small game hunting and the whole state to bow and arrow deer hunting since Oct. 1. There was evidence that the big migration of ducks through Michigan had not started in any volume, and it looked as if the peak would not be reached until two weeks after the season opened.

An aerial survey just completed showed that ducks were down 50 per cent over the same time last year in Saginaw bay, down 10 per cent in Lake St. Clair, but up 30 per cent in Lake Erie.

The pilots reported no diving ducks at all were seen. About 40 per cent of those spotted were black, 20 per cent mallards, 20 per cent baldpates, 10 per cent pintails and 10 per cent miscellaneous.

The duck season ends Nov. 16 in both peninsulas. This provides a 33-33 day season which was down from last year because of reduced duck prospects in the Mississippi flyway.

The limits on ducks, the same as last year, are four a day and eight in possession. Limits on geese are four a day.

Battle Creek Baby Killed By Father Repairing Shotgun

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(P)—A young father accidentally shot and killed his baby daughter last night while readying a shotgun for the hunting season.

Diana Kay Latta, 22-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Latta died instantly when the charge struck her in the heart as she sat halfway across the room.

The grief-stricken father told state police he was repairing the weapon with the help of two companions. The gun was being passed back and forth in an attempt to get the weapon's spring clip in working order.

Latta who is 24, took the shotgun, put in a shell and threw the bolt. As he closed the bolt the gun went off.

Lost Airplane Door Worth $100 To Finder In Coldwater Region

COLDWATER, Mich.—(P)—There's a lost airplane door somewhere in this area, and it's worth $100 to the finder.

The door flew off an American Airlines DC-6 that was flying from Chicago to Detroit at 11,000 feet yesterday. Airlines officials said they would reward whoever finds it so they can study the door and determine what made it come loose.

Hanging on the door when it took off were two coats belonging to the plane's pilot and co-pilot. The coats also are believed to have landed somewhere around Coldwater.

The plane continued its trip and landed at Detroit without further difficulty.

Friday The 13th

CHICAGO—(P)—Today is Friday, the 13th of the second Friday the 13th of 1950. The first so-called superstitious day of 1950 was last Jan. 13. Like 1950, in two of the 12 months of 1951, the 13th falls on a Friday. The first is April 13 and the second on July 13.

Elk Sighted Again

GRAND RAPIDS.—(P)—The wandering elk that startled Grand Rapids residents Monday has been sighted again, this time 10 miles west of here. Farmer Garfield Doty who lives on highway M-50 said he spotted the huge animal in a field near his home yesterday.

Chicago Prices

CHICAGO BUTTER—(P)—Butter, firm; receipts 710,245; wholesale selling prices unchanged except 1 cent a pound higher on 93 second AA at 63.75.

CHICAGO EGGS—(P)—Eggs, firm; receipts 8,125; wholesale selling prices unchanged except to two cents a dozen higher on U. S. extras at 54 to 55.

CHICAGO GRAIN—(P)—Nice harvesting weather in much of the Midwest today provided a background for slumping prices on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans lost several cents. Dealers felt harvesting of the record-breaking bean crop should now be approaching its peak. This, they thought, would result in more hedging pressure against beans.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower, December 22 1/2¢, corn was unchanged to 1/4 higher, December 8 1/2¢. Soybeans were one to 2 1/2 cents lower, November 22 1/2¢ and 1/4¢ was three cents lower to five cents a hundred pounds higher, October bid at $12.35.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK—(P)—(USDA)—Salable hogs 5,000; moderately active, mostly 25 to 30 cents higher on both butchers and sows; closed slow on butchers with edge off, top $20.60 for around one load; most good and choice 200 to 260 lbs. $20.00 to $20.50; few 170 to 200 lbs. $19.25 to $20.25; other weights scarce; good and choice sows 400 lbs. and under $18.75 to $19.75; 400 to 500 lbs. $17.75 to $19.00; odd heavier weights down to around $16.75 for around 600 lb. averages; good clearance.

Salable cattle 1,000; salable calves 200; generally steady to strong on all slaughter cattle, load choice to prime 1,125 lb. steers $33.75; choice 1,215 lb. weights $34.00; few loads medium and good steers $25.00 to $30.50; common down to $21.00; short load high-good and choice 850 lb. heifers $30.75; few medium and good heifers $24.00 to $30.00; most common and medium cows $18.25 to $20.25; canners and cutters $14.00 to $18.25; medium and good bulls $24.00 to $26.25; medium to choice vealers $27.00 to $33.00.

Salable sheep 500; native slaughter lambs fully steady; bulk $27.00 to $28.50; latter price top shipper demand for choice 65 to 103 lb. fat lambs broader than supply; medium to good

National Farm Loan To Meet

Will Convene At Houghton Monday

The annual stockholders' meeting of the Superior National Farm Loan association will be held at the Douglass House in Houghton on Monday.

Albert Kinnon, Escanaba, secretary-treasurer, will report one of the most successful years in the association's history. He will describe a sound financial condition and will report a four per cent dividend to stockholders. The trend in loan business is favorable, he said, and more loans have been closed this year than in any previous year.

The meeting will be a joint one with the U. P. Production Credit Association. Representatives of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, Minn., will be present. The associations will be hosts at a noon luncheon for all in attendance.

The Superior National Farm Loan association serves all Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans, contracts and real estate in Iron, Gogebic, Ontonagon, Baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw counties, operating under a group office arrangement with the Lock City NFLA of the Soo and the Cloverland NFLA, Gladstone, with the group office located in Escanaba.

Heino K. Anderson of Kenyon is president of the association.

Grim Truman Goes To Meet General

Constellation, by W. Averell Harriman, special presidential assistant for foreign affairs; Secretary of the Army Frank Pace; Philip C. Jessup, ambassador-at-large; and Dean Rusk, assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs.

Mr. Truman is due at Hickam Field, Honolulu, about 8:30 a. m., Hawaiian time (1:30 p. m., EST). He will remain there until about midnight; then will leave on the last leg of his flight to meet Gen. Mac Arthur.

Reports To Mrs.

In Honolulu, Mr. Truman will be the guest at a luncheon given by Admiral A. W. Radford, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet. Mr. Truman's first action upon arriving in California last night was to report his safe arrival to Mrs. Truman.

"Where's the telephone?" he asked as he stepped down the landing ramp.

He looked grim to reporters, but Ross told them:

"I don't know why he should look grim."

Ross said Mr. Truman was in unusually good humor on the 2,040-mile nonstop flight from St. Louis. He said the president was particularly "wide awake" over the Rockies, showing great interest in the scenery. He took one nap, read government reports and visited frequently in the plane's cockpit.

Whoop-To-Do Record Saves Gassed Man In Battle Creek Home

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(P)—Strains of the tune "Whoop-to-Do" on a phonograph record woke Floyd Thompson early yesterday. The music drowned on. By the time it had played 19 times, Thompson was wide awake.

He went across the hall of his rooming house and pounded on the door of Carlyle Irving. There was no answer, so Thompson walked in.

Irving was lying unconscious on the floor, overcome by gas from a stove jet.

The fire department emergency squad administered oxygen and revived him.

Biffle Poll Predicts Democratic Victory

MIAMI, Fla.—(P)—The man on whose "barnyard poll" president Truman based his 1948 victory predictions has forecast another Democratic victory in November.

Leslie L. Biffle, secretary of the U. S. Senate and confidante of the president, said in an interview that the Democrats will retain control of the House and increase their majority in the Senate.

"Without any ifs, ands or hesitations," Biffle said, "we will beat Taft in Ohio, we'll beat Capehart in Indiana and we'll beat Millikin in Colorado."

The three veteran Republican Senators—Robert A. Taft, Homer E. Capehart and Eugene D. Millikin—are campaigning for reelection against administration-backed Democrats.

Fugitive Skunk Fifi Was Not A Stinker

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(P)—An SPCA agent probed delicately for a skunk hidden under a parked automobile, while a crowd gathered at a distance.

Then Edward Bald arrived, reached under the car and grabbed the skunk.

"Thank goodness you found Fifi," he exclaimed.

Bald said the animal had been deodorized two years ago.

NAMED TO TOUGH POST

President Truman has named Alan Valentine, above, 49-year-old college professor, to head the new Economic Stabilization Agency that will oversee wage-and-price controls if they are imposed. Valentine, former president of the University of Rochester, N. Y., is a registered Republican.

Gun Speeds Up Loan Of $500; Man Nabbed After Trip To Mexico

LOS ANGELES.—(P)—Albert Barclay, who is accused of using a pistol to obtain a $500 loan from his banker, is back from a little junket to Mexico.

FBI agents, waiting to greet him, took the 29-year-old Barclay before a U. S. commissioner yesterday and he was ordered held for federal grand jury action on a bank robbery charge. He was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Agents said Barclay admitted his story of needing money to avert an underworld death threat was untrue—he really wanted to go to Mexico. Vice President Frank Whitaker of the Compton National bank told the FBI that on Sept. 19 Barclay—irked at delays—displayed a gun, got the loan he wanted and left the weapon as security.

Zenith Radio Plant Gambling Broken Up After Wives Complain

CHICAGO—(P)—Gambling on the horses by employees at the Zenith Radio corporation's big Chicago plant, reportedly amounting to some $350,000 a year, has been halted, officials said yesterday.

The breakup of the gambling ring, officials said, stemmed from complaints of wives that their husbands were betting—and losing—money on horse races. A six months investigation followed, said E. F. McDonald, Jr., president of the corporation.

McDonald said private detectives found that employees had been contributing about $354,000 a year to gambling operations. He said all employees have been warned that gambling on company property will be cause for dismissal.

An undisclosed number of employees who had acted as agents for bookmakers have been fired.

Former Gwinn Pastor Found Dead In Woods From Heart Attack

IRON RIVER, Mich.—(P)—Dead of a heart attack, the Rev. Emil Tervo, 46, was found slumped against a tree five miles west of here today.

Rev. Tervo, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church in Stambaugh, had gone bird hunting yesterday. A six-month-old puppy that he had been training led Sheriff Lester Manfrom to the scene. A posse of 15 church members had searched for Mr. Tervo most of the night.

An Army chaplain for four years in the Pacific in World War II, Rev. Tervo had served pastorates at Gwinn and Pelkie, Mich., Eveleth, Minn., and was supply pastor at Bethlehem Lutheran, Detroit, while earning his master's degree at the University of Michigan. He was elected last week as president of the Iron County Ministerial association.

"Rented the first day" said Smith.

Coastal Targets In Korea Pounded By U. N. Warships

divisions were reported racing from the Ongjin peninsula to help the defenders of Kumchon, 75, miles southeast of Pyongyang.

The naval pounding extended from Songjin northward beyond the flaming iron and steel port of Chongjin.

The Mighty Mo spread death and destruction with 800,000 pounds of shells fired in less than an hour in the opening bombardment at Chongjin Thursday.

The big battlewagon on Friday swung 100 miles south and lobbed its "bricks" into the rail-highway town of Tanchon while destroyers and cruisers shelled Chongjin, Songjin and the nearby town of Sangpo.

The operation shattered Communist supply lines far ahead of United Nations ground forces rolling into North Korea along a 13-mile fighting front.

At the west end of that front, in an area that lies 65 to 75 miles southwest of Pyongyang, a fierce and confusing battle raged.

American spearheads within 65 miles of Pyongyang were at work with Red troops. An estimated 20,000 Communists fought south of them and two Red divisions were reported moving in from the west.

A field dispatch Friday from (P) Correspondent William J. Waugh sketched these developments:

Three U. S. First Cavalry Division columns and British and Australian soldiers moved against Kumchon, about 75 miles southwest of Pyongyang.

Pincers Closing

One column fought slowly up the main highway toward Kumchon, and was four miles south of that base Friday morning after an artillery duel that knocked out two Russian-made tanks.

Two other columns operating west and east of the road strove to clamp a pincer on Kumchon. An estimated 20,000 Reds were in and south of Kumchon, giving every indication of making a fight to the death.

Another pincer being formed by Americans and South Koreans aimed to close at Hanpo, eight miles up the road from Kumchon. U. S. First Cavalry troops forming the western jaw already were in the outskirts of Hanpo. A heavy fight raged there.

South Korean Fifth division troops, seeking to forget the eastern jaw, still were fighting northward toward Hanpo.

Complicating the picture, two Red divisions were reported moving in from the west toward Paekchon. It is 15 miles southwest of Kumchon. The First Cavalry task force now west of Kumchon and in the outskirts of Hanpo jumped off from Paekchon. Any movement of red divisions toward Paekchon would put them at a point where they might cut in behind the American forward elements.

There was easier going for U. N. forces elsewhere along the curving battle line north of Parallel 38. At the eastern end, the South Korean captors of Wonsan port fought three miles west against moderate resistance.

French Abandon Indochina Post

Troops Leave Gap In Frontier For Reds

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
SAIGON, Indochina.—(P)—The French today announced abandonment of the key bastion of Thatkhe, opening another gap in their weakening defense line along the China-Indochina frontier.

It was the third frontier post abandoned or lost by the French within a month. The withdrawal left some 300 miles of the frontier open to the Vietnam guerrillas of Communist leader Ho Chi Minh.

A military spokesman said the Thatkhe garrison withdrew from the post Tuesday night toward Langson, French front headquarters 50 miles to the south-east. Elements of the retreating garrison already have reached Namham, a French post midway between Thatkhe and Langson, he added.

Abandonment of Thatkhe left only three main garrisons on the mountainous frontier between China and North Vietnam—Monca on the coast, Caobang, and Laokay on the west, almost 400 miles inland from the coast.

A field dispatch Friday from (P) Correspondent William J. Waugh sketched these developments:

Three U. S. First Cavalry Division columns and British and Australian soldiers moved against Kumchon, about 75 miles southwest of Pyongyang.

Pincers Closing

One column fought slowly up the main highway toward Kumchon, and was four miles south of that base Friday morning after an artillery duel that knocked out two Russian-made tanks.

Mrs. Eugenia Hill Moves To Phoenix

IRON RIVER, Mich.—Mrs. Eugenia Hill, widow of the late William D. Hill, will leave Wednesday for Phoenix, Arizona to make her home there with her son, William "Buddy" Hill Jr.

Her son has built a new home at the foot of the South Mountains with a commanding view of Phoenix and the broad plain on which the capital city of Arizona is located. He is on the staff of the Arizona state health department.

Mr. Hill arrived Wednesday for a visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Rulloski, Homer location, Mineral Hills, where their mother has been residing. He was accompanied from Detroit by Mrs. Amelia Lee, a sister of Mrs. Hill, and yesterday they drove to Escanaba for a visit at the home of another sister, Miss Adrienne Tounsignant.

Union Musicians To Hold Meeting

Escanabans Going To Iron River

Twenty-five union musicians delegates from six Upper Peninsula locals of the American Federation of Musicians, will hold an annual conference at the Iron Inn in Iron River Sunday, it was announced today by Chester Marchinowski, secretary.

The conference will open at 10 a. m., and lunch will be served at 12:30 p. m. The afternoon session will be at 2, and an evening banquet at 6:30.

The main speaker will be George Clancy, Detroit, president of the Lower Peninsula conference, secretary of the big AFM local in Detroit, and a member of the national union executive board.

Others expected will be Bill Dart, Port Huron, Lower Peninsula secretary, and Tom Crowley, Windsor, Ont. Delegates will be from locals in Memoninee-Marquette, Stambaugh, Iron Mountain, Marquette, Escanaba and Soo, Canada. Wellington Hinze, Escanaba, Upper Peninsula conference chairman, will preside. Dinner music at the banquet will be provided by Tom Dzanbozoff's Trio.

Countless steam jets issuing from the floor of Alaska's Valley of 10,000 Smokes give it its name.
